Programs and Services

Alaska Native Studies and Rural Development Department

1-888-574-6528 or 907-474-6528

UAF's Department of Alaska Native and Rural Development provides innovative degree programs that build effective community leadership in Rural Alaska and the Circumpolar North. If Rural Development is your focus, this is your best resource.

Department of Developmental Education

1-877-747-1580 or 907-474-1112

The Department of Developmental Education, housed in the College of Rural and Community Development, aims to improve and enhance the success of students at all levels of academic preparation. Our goals include the following:

- Make educational opportunity and success possible for each UAF student
- Develop the student skills and attitudes necessary for academic, career, and life goals
- Assess students' levels of preparedness and recommend appropriate classes
- Enable student competencies for success in college courses, thus maintaining academic standards
- Enhance retention of students
- Promote cognitive and affective learning theory in all UAF course offerings

Human Services AAS Distance Degree

907-455-2056

The HUMS program prepares students for entry level positions in human services agencies. Contact Lara Hensley, she will help with Registration.

Drum Beats - United States Department of Agriculture (USDA)

Drum Beats is a USDA grant that funds a consortium of five rural, Alaska Native-serving extended campuses of the College of Rural and Community Development (CRCD) and the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Alaska Fairbanks . The overall goal of the Drum Beats grant is geared toward helping Alaska Natives earn degrees in the USDA disciplines of plant sciences, animal sciences, veterinary medicine and environmental sciences.

Early Childhood Education Distance Delivered

1-866-560-5860

Offering an Associates Degree in Early Childhood Development, this is your best resource for pursuing an Early Education program.

Rural Alaska Honors Institute

1-800-478-6886 or 907-474-5876

RAHI is a bridging program that assists students in Rural Alaska in making the academic and social transition between high school and college. RAHI is for college-bound students who are willing to work hard and who are dedicated to excellence.

Rural Student Services

1-888-478-1452 or 907-474-7871

Rural Student Services is committed to responding to student needs by providing quality services to Native and rural students who expend positive effort in the pursuit of higher education and its opportunities.

Teaching Academic Courses Online (s) Victor Zinger/Natalia Zinger
CRN: 40295 vazinger@alaska.edu/nzinger@alaska.edu
COURSE DESCRIPTION:
The course is intended for secondary and college instructors and focuses on methodologies for developing and delivering academic courses in online interactive format. It is designed for participants who will utilize the newest available Learning Management Systems (UAF Black Board) in combination with an interactive learning platform (Elluminate Live!). Interactive technological tools that facilitate different forms of online communication, learning, and collaboration among educators and students will be presented, demonstrated, and discussed throughout the course. Online pedagogy and best practices with emphasis on new roles of instructors and students will be considered and evaluated. Hands-on activities with current Learning Management System, Elluminate Live platform and Virtual reality Environment; Second Life are widely implemented. Discussions on effectiveness of suitable teaching strategies and assessment tools in an online setting are included. Participants will create a professional portfolio that demonstrates academic growth, professional development and achievement relative to the ISTE National Technology Standards for Students and Teachers and Alaska Teaching Standards.

ED F593 UC1 3 cr
Higher Ed Mngt in the Context of Shared Governance Robert Mackey III
CRN: 39958 ermackeyiii@alaska.edu
COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Higher education management is not like other institutions. One of these reasons is the shared governance model where a pseudo-public/private organization is governed by an executive board (Board of Regents, in Alaska), regulated by private accreditation organizations and "share" decision-making with multiple stakeholders. As a result, the shared governance model creates a policy environment that is significantly different from other private and public organizations in history, law and policy processes. This class will examine the laws and organizational structures that "bound" higher education and provide a broad overview of the "best practices" of which most higher education managers and professionals need to be aware.
