

Join us for

INDIGENOUS PEOPLES DAY

Monday, Oct. 14

Resiliency: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

K'ode'onh, k'odit, k'ode'onhda': tth'ik'w jo giga' tr'ekhwneyh.

"Yesterday, today, tomorrow: still right here we are living."

— Benhti Kenaga' (Minto Lower Tanana Dene)

Free to the public, including traditional lunch.

10:30 a.m. — Opening ceremony and site blessing at Troth Yeddha' Park.

11:15 a.m. — Welcome and opening remarks at the Wood Center multilevel lounge.

Noon — Traditional foods lunch, presentations and more at the Wood Center multilevel lounge.

We will have three panel discussions marking yesterday, today and tomorrow from an Indigenous perspective.

- ▶ 12:30 p.m. — Yesterday: Groundbreakers, trailblazers, wisdom bearers
- ▶ 1:45 p.m. — Today: Indigenous Ph.D. graduates at UAF
- ▶ 3 p.m. — Tomorrow: Guidance for tomorrow

4 p.m. — Closing ceremony

Indigenous Peoples Day participants are encouraged to attend evening activities with the First Alaskans Institute Elders and Youth Conference at the Carlson Center.

Parking is available in the Nenana lot across from the Student Recreation Center.

Visit www.uaf.edu/indigenous/ for details.

#IPDAK2019
#IndigenousPeoplesDay

