

Climate Change Community of Practice: Building Knowledge, Guiding Research

Erik R. Stegman
Carry the Kettle First Nation (Assiniboine)

Program Manager
NCAI Policy Research Center
Washington, DC

Pacific RISA
managing climate risk in the Pacific

Our Mission

Provide tribal leaders with the best available knowledge to make strategically proactive policy decisions in a framework of Native wisdom that positively impact the future of Native peoples.

Our Vision

Supporting Indian Country in shaping its own future.

The Community of Practice Program

- Offers organizational and communications support to diverse networks of stakeholders working on key issues to Indian Country in order to build knowledge and share resources
- Our tribal climate change CoP operates two major national working groups:
 - National advocacy
 - Adaptation and mitigation

Casting the Net to Build the Knowledge

Current Projects

- Pilot study: the impacts of climate change in Indian Country
- Legal paper examining tribal government participation in international climate change meetings
- Development of a new information/resource sharing website geared to the needs of our stakeholder partners

Welcome Aboard, ACCAP!

- What information do you need about climate change in tribal communities?
- What tools and resources need to be developed?
- What information do you think you can share/provide?
- What is most important to your local region?
- What other stakeholders need to be at the table to build knowledge about tribal climate change?

Contact Information

Erik R. Stegman

Program Manager

NCAI Policy Research Center

Estegman@ncai.org

<http://www.ncai.prc.org>

202-721-1384