

New Student Orientation

is here to help! Your first days on campus are sure to be a mixture of new people, places and questions. The New Student Orientation team is composed of student leaders, staff and faculty who truly care about your experience as a UAF student. We tailor workshops, design tours and plan programs to introduce you to campus resources and provide answers to your questions about academic and extracurricular life at UAF.

The fall multiday event includes information sessions, workshops, activities, and other opportunities to connect with your Orientation Leaders and fellow incoming students. Specific events include: Resource Fair, Grand Orientation Welcome, Academic Lunch, late-night shopping extravaganza and many other engaging programs. A condensed NSO program is offered for transfer students, as well as sessions specific to UA Scholars, honors students, international students and families of incoming students.

If you will be joining UAF at the spring semester, a one-day NSO program will be offered on Wednesday, January 18, 2012.

Save the date!
