What if you are suddenly faced with an earthquake, a volcanic eruption, a tsunami, a flood or an approaching wildfire? Do you have the necessary implements ready to provide heat for cooking, lighting and staying warm? Do you know which foods are best to pack and how long after an outage items will last in your freezer? Join Art Nash and learn about compact, efficient cooking and heating options powered by propane, white gas and wood to use during and after an emergency.

There is no cost to this event, but registration is recommended.

Please call the Cooperative Extension office at 745-3360 to register or with any questions.
