Subject: Palmer Extension office to move

Details:

The Palmer district office of the University of Alaska Fairbanks Cooperative Extension Service will move to new quarters at the Matanuska Experiment Farm.

The office will close May 6 and will reopen May 12 on the second floor of Kerttula Hall, at 1509 S. Georgeson Drive.

The new space has a larger classroom and a videoconference network for teaching opportunities.

For more information, call the office at 907-745-3360.
