As more information becomes available on the safety implications of using mobile technology while driving, states are enacting distracted driving legislation at a rapid pace.

Do you know your state laws? Are you familiar with the state laws when traveling? This quick quiz will help you find out.