What will I get out of RAHI?
- Build self-confidence
- Earn 8–10 credits at no cost
- Experience college life
- Gain leadership skills
- Make friends for life

Am I eligible?
- Rural and Alaska Native students
- College bound high school juniors and seniors
- Minimum 3.0 GPA
- Competitive selection process requires three essays and three references

Application deadline: March 1, 2015
Apply online and get more information at www.uaf.edu/rahi/

RURAL ALASKA HONORS INSTITUTE
University of Alaska Fairbanks
PO Box 756305
Fairbanks, Alaska
99775
907-474-5876
800-478-6886
Fax: 907-474-5624
rahi@alaska.edu

RAHI is funded by the College of Rural and Community Development, University of Alaska Fairbanks, and by the generous support of

The University of Alaska Fairbanks is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities. UAF is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and educational institution.

RAHI staff and student photos. 9/2014

May 26–July 10, 2015
University of Alaska Fairbanks
The UAF Rural Alaska Honors Institute (RAHI), founded at the request of the Alaska Federation of Natives in 1983, was established to prepare rural and Alaska Native high school students for academic excellence and college success.

Over 1,500 students have attended the RAHI program since 1983. To date, RAHI students have earned these degrees:

- 1 Medical Doctor
- 2 Doctor of Pharmacy
- 2 Doctor of Physical Therapy
- 1 Doctor of Chiropractic
- 8 Law Degrees
- 2 PhD
- 87 Masters Degrees
- 17 Professional Certificates
- 360 Baccalaureate Degrees
- 192 Associate Degrees
- 90 Certificates

RAHI students are fully funded, including travel and earn nearly a semester of college credit.

Students take courses including:
- English
- College-level Algebra
- Chemistry
- Introduction to Business
- Process Technology
- Education
- Study Skills
- Karate
- Alaska Native Dance

Over 250 RAHI alum are currently enrolled in colleges throughout Alaska and the U.S.

Students come from 225 communities across Alaska.