TO UPDATE THE TEXT

Other reason (specify):
Add language specifying requirements for admission to the ANS program

A. CHANGES: (Brief statement of scope, or a list, of requested changes)

Currently there are no special requirements for admission to the ANS program: students can declare the ANS major at any time after admission to UAF or request a change of major at will. DANSRD would like to put in place some simple requirements that will help students to decide if this is really the program they want and to help the Department serve them better. We feel that doing so will increase the retention and completion success rate of our students and help us to develop a strong supportive relationship with them from the moment they are admitted to the program.

We will require students to complete a written questionnaire consisting of five questions about their understanding of the ANS program and their own academic goals which will become a part of the student’s SLOA portfolio. We will also require a short oral interview (accessible via audio conference) that will allow the students to introduce themselves and meet one or more of the faculty. Student responses will be used to determine their readiness for admission and to help us connect them to a faculty mentor based on their expressed interests and goals.

We have discussed this proposal with the Tribal Management program Chair and faculty and they are all in support of this change. (Copies of email correspondence are attached.)

B. CURRENT DESCRIPTION AS IT APPEARS IN THE CATALOG:

Alaska Native Studies
College of Rural and Community Development
Department of Alaska Native Studies and Rural Development
907-474-5405
Minimum Requirements for Degree: 120 credits

Alaska Native Studies seeks to provide students with an awareness of the scope, richness and variety of Alaska Native cultures. It offers a series of critical perspectives on the contemporary Native experience in North American society. The BA degree can be earned on the Fairbanks campus or through distance delivery.

Students complete a concentration in one of four areas: Alaska Native Forms of Cultural Expression, Alaska Native Education, Alaska Native Language, Alaska Native Law, or Government and Politics.

The Alaska Native studies BA prepares students to appreciate historical and contemporary cultural dynamics. The department also welcomes students pursuing a second major or a minor. It encourages students who expect to be involved professionally in Alaska Native communities or other multicultural settings to pursue this degree.

Special application requirements and deadlines apply for distance BA programs. For more information contact the department toll-free at 800-770-9531 or visit www.uaf.edu/danrd/.

It encourages students who expect to be involved professionally in Alaska Native communities or other multicultural settings to pursue this degree.

Students applying for acceptance into the Alaska Native Studies program need to complete two department specific requirements in addition to general university admission; an oral interview with faculty and a written questionnaire. Findings from this process will be used to support the Department advising process and assist students in connecting with faculty and mentors. The questionnaire and instructions for the oral interview can be found on the DANSRD website www.uaf.edu/danrd/ under “How to Apply.”

Special application requirements and deadlines apply for distance BA programs. For more information contact the department toll-free at 800-770-9531 or visit www.uaf.edu/danrd/.
