Course Syllabus

Course Title: Clinical Practice: Organizational Action Research
Course No: ECE 471
Credits: 3 \( (1 + 0 + 14) \)
Prerequisites: Engl 211X or 213X and completion of all CDFS core major and Administration or Family Support concentration course work.

Instructor: Veronica Plumb
604 Barnette Street  Suite 220
Phone: 455-2038
E-mail: vplumb@alaska.edu

Office or Contact hours: Instructor will post office hours for students at first class.

Location: Distance Delivered possibly in conjunction with local site.

Dates: TBA 2012
Times: TBA
ECE 471 will meet a total of 15 times for 1 hour. Approximately 196 hours of field work will be completed. Field work may take place within approved group child care programs, preschools, Head Starts or Public schools.

Text:

Assorted articles that may be distributed.

Supplemental Text:

Additional Information:
NAEYC Standards for Early Childhood Professional Preparation Advanced Programs. Available at the following web site.

Course Description:
Theory and application of action research within an organization. Emphasis on use of personal reflection to understand practice and the development of a planned theory of action. Techniques for observing action through the use of a systematic process of examining the evidence are learned. Students should expect to be involved within an early childhood administrative setting for some or all of the day for a minimum of 10 weeks.

Prerequisites: Completion of all CDFS core major and Administration or Family Support concentration course work.

Course Goal:
Students will learn about and understand that organizational action research is an interactive, cyclical process intended to happen periodically on a regular basis. Reflection on practice, taking an action, reflecting, and taking further action as needed is what shapes the research as it is taking place.

Student Outcomes:
Upon completion of this course student will be able to:
1. Interpret how organizational action research provides opportunity for improvement of professional practice through evolving learning and progressive problem solving.
2. Examine action research methodology
3. Demonstrate skill application generating research questions and plans.
4. Construct and manage a clearly identified plan of action.
5. Assess how improvement is gained within an organization in which action is embedded through participatory research.

NAEYC Standards addressed in this course:
Standard 5: Using content knowledge to build meaningful curriculum
Standard 6: Becoming a professional

Instructional Methods:
The method of instruction will be a combination of reading assignments, Blackboard, audio conferencing with a large action research based project. Audio lectures will be recorded and blackboard discussion forums continually monitored. Students will demonstrate their understandings of course content and proficiency of skill through assignments and discussion. All assignments will be communicated through the assignments section of the course Bb site. Other communication will take place through email.

Field Experience Placement:
There is opportunity of many diverse early care and education settings for field experience work. Options include but are not limited to, School district preschools and kindergarten classes, Head Start and Early Head start as well as other state certified preschool programs.

The Child Development and Families Studies program will work with each student to assure they are placed in a program that will fit their goals and needs supporting successful completion of course.

There are at least three people directly involved in each field placement experience; the student, the site supervisor and the university faculty member. In addition, each student will be working within an early childhood setting with many interpersonal relationships being developed, so the children, families and other program staff must be considered in the equation as well.

Positive communication is essential for a successful career in early education, it is expected this will be demonstrated in field work as well. In the complex early childhood setting where field work is facilitated, there is the chance that there will be conflict and controversy. Positive communication does not mean the student will not have problems. It does mean that the student will have opportunity to learn by listening to constructive criticism, reflect on feedback and suggestions, modify and adapt, confront issues, share ideas, compromise and negotiate to find equitable solutions in an effort to satisfy all parties. The code of ethics should continually guide the student throughout this process.

Requirements and Assignments:
- Reflection, writing, and dialogue on assigned text, class sessions, and field placement experiences.

- Application of Organizational Research project in field placement:
  Additional time within your field placement site used to facilitate an organizational research term project

- Organizational Research project: Each student will design a hands on, action based classroom research project. This project will be developed out of a question or challenge that needs to be problem-solved within the organization. The project will be shared through a documentation paper (20 – 25 page minimum). When completed, a copy of your paper will be attached to the proper assignment within the content section of Blackboard. Please make sure I receive the paper no later than Sunday (date).

Application of Organizational Action Research Project Guidelines:
Action research is somewhat different than a classroom based curriculum project. Whereas, a classroom based research project has to do with change and how it directly relates to child learning and the classroom environment. Organizational action research focuses on the organization, and services provided. Action research of all types is an approach to research that allows an individual or group to take action upon as well as research outcome, unlike traditional research approaches which focus on creating knowledge only. The topic of investigation can be curriculum, but it is primarily based on an area of needed change. What do you want to see more of? What do you want to see less of? Student will design their project based on guidelines provided in the Clinical study guide. This guide will be provided for each student at the beginning class.

Students will be assessed within the areas of:
- Development of topic for action research that is relevant to the organization, inclusionary of list of participants and organizational staff that student will be collaborating with to facilitate plan of action.
- Planning action which follows the exploration and purpose of the project.
• Implementation of action research project; plans being implemented with revisions and interventions being made collaboratively with organizational personnel.

Evaluation of action – what were the outcomes of the action, this may be both intended as well as unintended, are examined to see if

• The original plan of action developed fit the situation
• The actions taken supported the plan construction
• The actions were taken appropriately as planned
• What would be appropriate next steps?

Organizational Research project in field placement: Additional time within

Paper Guidelines:
Each student will write a 20 - 25 page minimum paper that explains your project and facilitation. Draw from the texts of past courses, class topic discussions, field tasks and written documentation to explain your project. Address the following elements in your paper:

• Brief – (1-2 pages) summary of what you have learned about research from the class. Please refer to your specific field assignments and reports.
• Beginning reflections: (1 – 2 pages) reflect on developing your research. What are your thoughts about beginning this research project? What are you anticipating and wondering about? In what ways is this project relevant to you and the organization?
• The bigger picture of content: (5 - 6 pages) An introduction or overview at the beginning sets a stage for the study, gives your own reasons for choosing research question (s), and describes where your research would fit into or extend existing research on this topic or question. Discuss your rationale for the research. Describe who might be interested in your research. Think beyond the larger audience than just yourself. You will want to include your research question(s), sub questions, plan for data collection, Plan for data analysis, state support that is needed to complete the project, permissions that would be necessary as well as how they were obtained, expected timeline.
• Facilitation: (11 – 12) Share the implementation process. You will find your blackboard journaling notes helpful here.
• Ending Reflection: (2 – 3 pages) How did it go? Did your implementation proceed exact to plan? Were your question(s) answered? Was this activity helpful to you as a classroom teacher? What would you do differently when working with another classroom research project?

Final program portfolio note: Final project will need to be kept for possible inclusion in final program portfolio which will be completed within the ECE 480 Child Development and Family Studies Portfolio course.

Evaluation
A letter grade will be issued for participants. (Note that you must receive a B or higher for this course to count towards your CDEV BA Degree. Grading is based on:

- Blackboard journaling 100 20%
- Class discussion (class meetings and Bb) 65 13%
- Classroom research term project 200 40%
- Development of research documentation board 135 27%

Total 500 100%

All coursework will be evaluated on the following:

a) Organization
b) Clarity
c) Consistency of thought and format
d) Reflection of course content
e) Thoughtful assimilation/accommodation with evidence of conceptual connections and understanding of content
f) Written work contains no or few distracting elements such as spelling errors.

Disabilities Services:
The Child Development and Family Studies program will work with the Office of Disability Services to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities. Disability Services provide a variety of services to assure equal access for all students. Interpreting services, educational assistants, note taking, and exam accommodations for students are the most frequently provided accommodations.

The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and insures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials. (203 WHIT, 474-7043) I will work with the Office of Disabilities Services to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.

Disability services also provides assistance to the university's rural campuses; Bristol Bay, Chukchi, Interior-Aleutians, Kuskokwim, and Northwest.
Questions should be directed to the Director of Disability Services at (907)-474-5655.
http://www.uaf.edu/disability/

Representatives from the office also regularly meet students in the CTCC building.
Check with the CTCC student services for more information, 455-2851 or 2849.

Rural Student Services (RSS) is an academic advising department with over 35 years of experience in working with students from all over the state of Alaska. We are here to assist you in achieving student success by linking you to current information pertinent to your education, lifestyle, and goals. RSS is known for its welcoming and friendly environment. Many students find meaningful connection at UAF through RSS.
We can help you with:
   • Academic requirements
   • Registration for classes
   • Finding financial aid
   • Explaining housing options
   • Declaring a major
   • Career exploration

Library Services for off campus students
http://library.uaf.edu/offcampus Off-Campus Library Services is a unit set up to serve rural UAF students and faculty who do not have access to appropriate information resources in their town or village. We work in support of The College of Rural & Community Development and The Center for Distance Education and Independent Learning.

We can supply your information needs for the courses you are taking. For example, if a research paper is required in the teleconference or correspondence course that you are taking, you can contact us, explain your information need, and we will send library materials to you so that you can write your paper.

Computer, Internet and Software

Problem: you cannot get your email Make sure your Internet connection is working; to test it, you can try to go to a new web page and see if it loads.
• If you are having problems with a UAF account, you will need to contact the UAF help desk 1.800.478.4667. If it is another company’s account, you will need to contact their customer support. There is very little we can do to assist you as we have no control or access to the computers that serve the email.
• Check with your email program’s Help.

Problem: you forgot your password
• Only the organization that issued your password can do anything to change it. You will need to contact them. For UAF email and Blackboard it is the UAF help desk 1.800.478.4667. For most web services there is a link you can click if you forgot your password. I also recommend writing them down somewhere for back up.
