How will the two course levels differ from each other? How will each be taught at the appropriate level:

Stacked course applications are reviewed by the (Undergraduate) Curricular Review Committee and by the Graduate Academic and Advising Committee. Creating two different syllabi—undergraduate and graduate versions—will help emphasize the different qualities of what are supposed to be two different courses. The committees will determine: 1) whether the two versions are sufficiently different (i.e. is there undergraduate and graduate level content being offered); 2) are undergraduates being overtaxed; 3) are graduate students being undertaxed? In this context, the committees are looking out for the interests of the students taking the course. Typically, if either committee has qualms, they both do. 6. FREQUENCY OF OFFERING:

- Fall odd-numbered years or as demand warrants.
- Fall, Spring, Summer (Every, or Even-numbered Years, or Odd-numbered Years) — or As Demand Warrants

7. SEMESTER & YEAR OF FIRST OFFERING (AY2013-14 if approved by 3/1/2013; otherwise AY2014-15)

- AY 2015-2016

8. COURSE FORMAT:

NOTE: Course hours may not be compressed into fewer than three days per credit. Any course compressed into fewer than six weeks must be approved by the college or school's curriculum council. Furthermore, any core course compressed to less than six weeks must be approved by the Core Review Committee.

Will this course be used to fulfill a requirement for the baccalaureate core? If YES, attach form.

YES: NO: X

IF YES, check which core requirements it could be used to fulfill:

O = Oral Intensive, Format 6  W = Writing Intensive, Format 7  X = Baccalaureate Core

11.A Is course content related to northern, arctic or circumpolar studies? If yes, a “snowflake” symbol will be added in the printed Catalog, and flagged in Banner.

YES: NO: X

12. COURSE REPEATABILITY:

Is this course repeatable for credit?

YES: NO: X

Justification: Indicate why the course can be repeated (for example, the course follows a different theme each time).
13. GRADING SYSTEM: Specify only one. Note: Changing the grading system for a course later on constitutes a Major Course Change – Format 2 form.

LETTER: \[X\]
PASS/FAIL: \[\]

14. PREREQUISITES

Prerequisites: ANTH F100x; or ANTH F101; or ANTH F215; or SOC F100x; or LING F101 or permission of instructor.

These will be required before the student is allowed to enroll in the course.

15. SPECIAL RESTRICTIONS, CONDITIONS

16. PROPOSED COURSE FEES $0

Has a memo been submitted through your dean to the Provost for fee approval? \[\] Yes/No

17. PREVIOUS HISTORY

Has the course been offered as special topics or trial course previously? \[\] Yes/No

If yes, give semester, year, course #, etc.:

18. ESTIMATED IMPACT

WHAT IMPACT, IF ANY, WILL THIS HAVE ON BUDGET, FACILITIES/SPACE, FACULTY, ETC.

None.

19. LIBRARY COLLECTIONS

Have you contacted the library collection development officer (kljensen@alaska.edu, 474-6695) with regard to the adequacy of library/media collections, equipment, and services available for the proposed course? If so, give date of contact and resolution. If not, explain why not.

\[\] Yes \[X\] No

No special collections or media are required for the class.

20. IMPACTS ON PROGRAMS/DEPTS

What programs/departments will be affected by this proposed action? Include information on the Programs/Departments contacted (e.g., email, memo)

This will affect linguistics and anthropology. Both departments have been consulted as the faculty member is a member of both and this paperwork is being filed based on a consensus in both departments that additional 200-level courses are needed.

21. POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACTS

Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.

The positive impact will be that undergraduates taking ANTH/LING 308 (Language and Gender) and special topics 400-level classes in linguistics and anthropology will be better equipped to handle linguistic anthropology concepts, meaning that over time every upper division course will not require an introduction to the basic concepts of linguistic anthropology.

There are no negative impacts.
JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED
The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

This course will help prepare students for upper-division courses in linguistics and anthropology and will fill the need for 200-level courses in both departments. There are no lower-division courses in linguistic anthropology and (after curricular changes eliminating LING F216 go into place) this will be one of two 200-level Linguistics classes, meeting a demand in that department as well.

Instructor: Robin Shoaps, PhD
Meeting Time and Location: TBD
Office Hours: TO BE ADDED Bunnell 305B.
Contact: Email: rashoaps@alaska.edu

Course Description: An introduction to the study of the language and culture nexus. Questions addressed include: How does the language you speak affect how you think and view the world? How do ways of speaking structure culture? What do we know about how human language evolved? How does language encode cultural meaning?

Prerequisites: ANTH 100x or LING 101. Recommended: ANTH 215.

Instructional Methods:
This class has a lecture format with some discussion.

Course Goals:
• To provide an overview of linguistic anthropology/anthropological linguistics as a subfield of linguistics and anthropology
• To familiarize students with the key analytic terms and methods for studying the language/culture relationship
• To familiarize students with grammatical systems and forms of talk from other cultures
• To equip students to understand language as a human, cultural trait

Learning Outcomes:
After taking this class students will:
• Be familiar with the main research questions and theoretical perspectives of linguistic anthropology
• Be prepared for upper level classes in linguistics and anthropology
• Be able to argue for and against interpretations of linguistic relativity
• Be able to use empirical studies to support specific arguments about the relationship to language to culture and human development
• Be able to describe some of the differences between human language and animal communication
Specific Course Requirements:

Attendance:
Regular attendance is necessary in order to understand class concepts. Please provide a doctor’s note if you miss class due to medical reasons. There are two “free” or “grace” absences that do not count toward your attendance grade. Note that pop quizzes (below) will take place at the beginning of class, so coming to class late may jeopardize your ability to score well on them.

Readings:
Timely completion of the readings is essential for success in this class, because lectures will complement and not necessarily summarize the readings.

Quizzes: There are 10 pop quizzes based on the reading for the day and previous lecture material, I will drop your lowest score.

Written Assignments: There are weekly 2-3 page written assignments in which you will be asked to respond to reading questions that test your comprehension of the material.

Exams: There is a midterm and final exam. There are true/false, definitions, short answer and multiple-choice format. You are allowed to use your notes. The final exam is focused on the second half of the course.

Group Project: Students will give 15 minute presentations that use non-Western language data to illustrate course concepts.

Grading is based on the following scale:

- 95-100%: A
- 90-94%: A-
- 86-89%: B+
- 83-85%: B
- 80-82%: B-
- 76-79%: C+
- 73-75%: C
- 70-72%: C-
- 66-69%: D+
- 63-65%: D
Course Policies:
With the exception of in-class assignments, no laptops, tablets or cell phones are permitted during class lecture and discussion unless you have a note from the disabilities office. Not only does the use of these devices fail to observe standards of basic politeness and professional demeanor, their presence is distracting to me and to other students. Research has demonstrated that hand writing notes helps memory and retention.

Coming to class more than 15 minutes late counts as an absence.

You are expected to be honest and ethical in your fulfillment of assignments. Plagiarism and cheating are serious violations of proper academic conduct and will result in a failing grade for the assignment (see below).

No make-up presentations will be allowed except with prior consent of the instructor. No late assignments will be accepted. Please schedule your time accordingly.

All homework papers must be handed in physically, in hard copy form. You may hand in in-class assignments digitally or in handwritten form.

University Policies and Services:

Academic Integrity:
Plagiarism is a form of cheating in which you use anyone else's ideas and/or words (both published or personally communicated) without proper citation of the source. Whether from a printed source, the Internet, a lecture or a friend or family member, you must cite the source properly, if you got the idea from someone else—and this is true even if you are not using the source's exact wording. Be aware of the University's policies on academic dishonesty.

When academic dishonesty is documented on any assignment or exam, you will receive a zero and the matter may be turned over to the Dean of Students for inquiry, with the recommendation of a failing grade in the course.

You should familiarize yourself with the Student Code of Conduct (http://www.uaf.edu/catalog/current/academics/regs3html#Student_Conduct) and the University statement on Plagiarism (http://library.uaf.edu/is101-plagiarism).

For information on how to properly cite sources see: http://www.uaf.edu/sssp/

Support Services:
Student Support Services are available at UAF: http://jwww.uaf.edu/sssp/
These services include: free tutorial services; academic advising, mentoring, and personal support; direct financial assistance to qualified low-income participants; use of laptop computers, labs, and other technology resources; and cultural and social engagement. The office is located at 512 Gruening building.

See also http://jwww.uaf.edu/catalog/catalog_10-11/services/services.html

Disability Services:
The University of Alaska is committed to providing equal access for students with disabilities.

If you experience a disability and will need special accommodations, please contact me during my office hours. I will work with the Office of Disabilities Services (208 WHIT, 474-5655) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.
