21. POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACTS

Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.

This course will have a positive impact on the TM program and courses. Increased skills and knowledge from this course are expected to be reflected in other TM courses and the program as a whole. Increase in student numbers and credit hours, many not previously served by UAF. Should not adversely impact other courses or programs. May provide additional students transitioning into the Rural Development program. No negative impacts are expected.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED

The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

This course is one of a series of courses sponsored by the US Department of Justice in the past as a non-credit Tribal Court training program through the Bureau of Justice Assistance. We have been requested to develop this series of courses into an Occupational Endorsement in Tribal Judicial Studies (currently under development). This course has been requested by multiple Tribal Governments throughout Alaska. Target audience is sitting Tribal Court Judges, Council Members, and Elders.

ATTACH COMPLETE SYLLABUS (as part of this application).
Note: syllabus must follow the guidelines discussed in the Faculty Senate Guide http://www.uaf.edu/uafgov/faculty/cd/syllabus.html.
The department and campus wide curriculum committees will review the syllabus to ensure that each of the items listed below are included. If items are missing or unclear, the proposed course change will be denied.

SYLLABUS CHECKLIST FOR ALL UAF COURSES
During the first week of class, instructors will distribute a course syllabus.
Although modifications may be made throughout the semester, this document will contain the following information (as applicable to the discipline):

1. Course information:
   - Title, number, credits, prerequisites, location, meeting time (make sure that contact hours are in line with credits).

2. Instructor (and if applicable, Teaching Assistant) information:
   - Name, office location, office hours, telephone, email address.

3. Course readings/materials:
   - Course textbook title, author, edition/publisher.
   - Supplementary readings (indicate whether required or recommended) and any supplies required.

4. Course description:
   - Content of the course and how it fits into the broader curriculum;
   - Expected proficiencies required to undertake the course, if applicable.
   - Inclusion of catalog description is strongly recommended, and
   - Description in syllabus must be consistent with catalog course description.

5. Course Goals (general) and Student Learning Outcomes (more specific)

6. Instructional methods:
   - Describe the teaching techniques (eg: lecture, case study, small group discussion, private instruction, studio instruction, values clarification, games, journal writing, use of Blackboard, audio/video conferencing, etc.).

7. Course calendar:
   - A schedule of class topics and assignments must be included. Be specific so that it is clear that the instructor has thought this through and will not be making it up on the fly (e.g. it is not adequate to say “lab”.
Instead, give each lab a title that describes its content). You may call the outline Tentative or Work in Progress to allow for modifications during the semester.

8. Course policies:
   - Specify course rules, including your policies on attendance, tardiness,
class participation, make-up exams, and plagiarism/academic integrity.

9. Evaluation:
   - Specify how students will be evaluated, what factors will be included, their relative value, and
   - how they will be tabulated into grades (on a curve, absolute scores, etc.)

10. Support Services:
   - Describe the student support services such as tutoring (local and/or regional) appropriate for the course.

11. Disabilities Services:
The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and insures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials.
   - State that you will work with the Office of Disabilities Services (203 WHIT, 474-7043) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.”

Course Description:
This course focuses on role of the tribal government and tribal justice system in enforcement of tribal court decisions in rural Alaska, including monitoring of offenders. Key concepts and strategies related to enforcement of tribal court decisions, including writing effective orders, and monitoring of offenders, will be discussed.

Course Goal:
Students will be able to understand and develop a tribal justice enforcement and monitoring process.

Student Learning Outcomes:
Upon completion of this course the student will:
1. Demonstrate an understanding of Federal Indian Law as it relates to the role of the tribal government and tribal justice system in designing and implementing an effective enforcement and monitoring system.
2. Effectively communicate strategies for design and implementation of both juvenile and adult monitoring programs.
3. Understand the importance of clearly written orders on enforcement of decisions and offender success.
4. Understand the importance of an effective monitoring system and impacts on offender success.
5. Effectively communicate the current picture of tribal jurisdiction in Alaska and how it impacts enforcement and monitoring decisions.

Instructional Methods: Instructional methods will include a combination of lecture, individual and small group discussion.

Course Policies: Attendance at all three days is mandatory. Students are expected to actively participate in class discussions and to contribute to group activities.

Coursepack and other materials will be distributed in class

Office Hours: As this is a 3 day intensive course, no office hours are scheduled. However, instructor will attend all session of the course and be available via phone and fax for student contact after course contact period. The Tribal Management Program can be reached toll-free at 1-866-474-5710
Evaluation and Grading:
This course will be graded pass/fail. In order to receive a passing grade, participants must receive a 70% or higher grade. Participants are expected to attend and actively participate in all sessions of this course. Participants will be assessed based upon practical application of skills and demonstration of course objectives.

Total points possible for the course will be assigned and weighted based on the following:

- Effective Participation and Leadership (30%): Active participation during the entire 3-day classroom session is required to pass this course. Students are expected to actively participate in all group discussions, and demonstrate leadership ability.

- In-class Exercise and Demonstration of Skills (40%): Participants are required to participate in all in-class exercises and to demonstrate application of course objectives.

- Course Notebook/Journal (30%): Participants are required to keep a course notebook for the session. The course notebook should include notes on the presentations and reflections on how the information presented could affect the students’ village. The notebook will be presented to the instructor at the end of the workshop, and then returned to the student.

Support Services: The instructor is available upon appointment for additional assistance outside session hours.

Disability Services: UAF Disability Services for Distance Students

Disability Services provide a variety of services to assure equal access for all students. Interpreting services, educational assistants, note taking, and exam accommodations for students are the most frequently provided accommodations.

The staff of Disability Services works with faculty in arranging appropriate services in the classroom. Questions should be directed to the Director of Disability Services at (907)-474-5655.
