2015 Fall Travel Awards

Request for Proposals

URSA has funds to support undergraduate student travel to present or pursue their research or creative projects. Undergraduate students are invited to apply for awards of up to $2,000.

Eligibility

- Travel must support: 1) presenting project results or outcomes at a public or professional meeting or 2) attending a conference to further the student’s project or creative work
- Students in any year of study, in any discipline and from any UAF campus may apply
- Any undergraduate student with an established project, a mentor, and good academic standing (good standing means cumulative GPA, and most recent semester GPA are both 2.0 or better)
- While the project topic and results may contribute to a mentor’s program of research or creative scholarship, the work must be performed by the student

Criteria for selection

- Written quality of the proposal
- Purpose of the travel with respect to potential for academic/research development of the student
- Adequate faculty involvement in the project (including a statement of support from the mentor)
- Preference will be given to degree-seeking students

Selection Process

- Selections will be made by the URSA Review Panel and URSA Co-Directors
- Funding decisions will be announced by email and posted on the URSA website by October 9, 2015
- Awardees are required to complete a reflection survey of their travel experience (and submit photographs if available) within two weeks of completion of their travel

Deadline to apply is September 18, 2015
