

Docent Training

August 31 – September 11, 2009

- Museum docents are volunteers who work with a team to lead K-6th grade class tours during the academic school year.
- Docents commit to 3 hours, 1 day per week for a full semester.
No prior experience is necessary!
- Call Museum Education to register for training 474-5360.

Professional training prepares you to use the museum's exhibitions and hands-on objects to teach students about science, culture and art. Museum docents gain valuable experience in education and interpretation as well as learning more about Alaska's natural and cultural history. Credit available. Call for more information.
