

Application
Observing Locally, Connecting Globally Program
Summer Institute for Teachers 2003/ 2004

I would like to participate in the Observing Locally, Connecting Globally (OLCG) program and agree to the following:

How I will benefit/ what I will receive:

- Travel assistance and per diem, which are available on an application basis.
- One GLOBE kit per school
- Two-week summer institute on GLOBE, Native knowledge, and best practices in science education (10 – 25 June, 2003)
- Four credits from the University of Alaska Fairbanks
- $500 stipend for implementing the program in the classroom
- Ongoing guidance in all aspects of the program through classroom visits, meetings, emails, and phone calls.
- Assistance in connecting with science professionals and local experts

What is expected of me:

- Actively participate in the OLCG Summer Institute (10 – 25 June, 2003)
- Implement at least one strand of GLOBE with the students (submitting data to the GLOBE web site)
- Show evidence of integrating and building on local knowledge and best practices in science and math education during the school year.
- Collaborate and share materials and ideas with other educators in the OLCG Program and others at my school and community
- Submit student and teacher assessments and personal reflections in response to evaluator requests.
