WHAT'S HAPPENING AT THE LIBRARY?

Join KCL for First Friday sponsored by the library and Southwest Alaska Arts Group September 1st from 5 to 7 p.m. There will be art, live music, cake and a block printing art activity.

The library will be closed September 2nd-4th for Labor Day weekend. Our normal hours will resume on Tuesday, September 5th.

Toddler Time is on Mondays now! The next Toddler Time is September 11th at 11 a.m. This program is for toddlers and parents to learn, play, and make new friends.

September is library card sign up month! Encourage friends, co-workers, and students to sign up for a library card at the Kuskokwim Consortium Library! The library has great resources, provides recreational activities for all ages, and is a great place to hang out. With a library card, you have access to the Alaska Digital Library that houses thousands of eBooks and audiobooks and LinkedInLearning, a great professional development resource. With a library card, you have access to the Alaska Library Catalog which means you can access books from all over the state of Alaska. With a library card, you can check out up to 25 items at a time including a large collection of movies and physical materials from our library of things!

Register for a library card today!

NEW BOOKS SPOTLIGHT

Take a look at some brand new books at the Kuskokwim Consortium Library.

Get a head start on spooky season with some Five Nights at Freddy's books! Based on the popular video game, this series takes place 10 years after the game with a lot of dark twists and turns, but hey that's what happens at Freddy Fazbear's Pizza.

What happens when you travel back to the past using your unique abilities and gather a group of women? You form a cult in a rundown Victorian mansion in 1950s California. Well, that is what Ursa did. But this ability cost her her son and granddaughter, Opal. Opal, now a teenager, must use those same gifts to unravel the past. Find out more in "Time's Mouth" by Edan Lepucki.

Molly Community Science

The Kuskokwim Consortium Library is very excited to be working with GBH Boston on another round of Molly of Denali curriculum! Molly Community Science is a new project that aims to support the development of environmental identity among 6-8 year old children from rural Alaska Native communities. The project builds on Molly of Denali, a national, animated PBS KIDS series that features an Alaska Native lead character; involves Alaska Native People at every level of production; and teaches literacy, social studies, Alaska Native values, and environmental science. This project will work with community members in Bethel and other rural, Alaska Native communities to co-create and test the community science program and resources. The library is the community liaison for this project, and will help with putting together a co-design team of parents and families, educators, elders and more to assist with this project. Please reach out to us if you are interested in learning more or participating in the co-design team.
