Who is eligible at UAF?

Undergraduate, and graduate students in a Business program accredited by AACSB.

Must meet academic ranking criteria (see below).

What are the UAF BGS requirements?

- Be enrolled in an AACSB-accredited school (i.e. UAF's College of Business and Security Management). Students in the following CBSM programs are eligible: BBA Accounting, BBA Business Administration, BBA Economics, BAM Applied Management, and MBA.
- Undergraduates: must rank in the top 10% of their class and have 50% of their program credits at UAF. Graduate (Master's) students: must rank in the top 20% of their program after completing 50% of coursework.
- Minimum GPA of 3.5

How are UAF students selected?

CBSM Advising Staff identifies who meets the criteria.

Eligible students are invited (via email by CBSM) and the student must fill out the application and accept the invitation.

Is there an induction/recognition ceremony at UAF?

Yes, once accepted and the student has filled out the application, members are officially recognized at a ceremony hosted by CBSM with a virtual option.

What else should I know?

- One-time membership fee covered by CBSM upon invitation.
- Membership is for life, no annual dues after the one-time fee.
- The honor is globally recognized and can be a valuable asset to a resume and a professional profile.
- If you receive an invitation but choose not to be inducted, you will not receive future invitations.
- Membership is not retroactive. If you were invited in a previous year but did not complete your registration, that invitation will not be reinstated.
