Michigan State University Law &
Oklahoma City University Law's

Road Map to Law School

Kimberly Wilkes

*Director of Admissions & Financial Aid,
Michigan State University College of Law*

Preston Nicholson

*Dean of Admissions,
Oklahoma City University School of Law*

Navigating the law school consideration and application process can be challenging, especially if you're new to the process. Knowing where to start, what to consider, and how to prepare a strong application can be overwhelming. We'll break down the process and offer a Road Map to Law School that will help guide your steps along the way! This session is a great opportunity to hear directly from the Directors of Admissions at two law schools.
