

Dear University of Alaska Fairbanks Student:

The Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 requires that each college and university receiving federal financial assistance provide annual information on drug and alcohol use and to promote healthy lifestyles and prevent the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by all students and employees.

The University of Alaska presents the following information about health risks associated with drug and alcohol use; university policies and sanctions; federal, state, local law and legal sanctions; and counseling and treatment resources.

We at the University of Alaska Fairbanks are committed to the health and wellbeing of our students. Our goal, like many institutions, is to improve academic success and quality of student life here on campus by providing programing, aimed at encouraging healthy lifestyles, as well as reducing harm associated with alcohol and drug abuse through awareness efforts.

I highly encourage you to read the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act announcement in its entirety. All students should be aware of policies on campus and together we can all uphold the standards of our UAF community.

Sincerely,

UNIVERSITY OF ALASKA

2020 DRUG-FREE SCHOOLS NOTIFICATION

In accordance with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 and to promote healthy lifestyles and prevent the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by all students and employees, the University of Alaska presents the following information about health risks associated with drug and alcohol use; counseling and treatment resources; University policies and sanctions; and federal, state, and local law and legal penalties.

Health Risks Associated With Substance Abuse

Alcohol:

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely affecting a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce these effects.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver.

Women who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible physical abnormalities and intellectual disabilities. In addition, research indicates that children of parents with alcohol addiction are at a greater risk than others of developing an alcohol addiction.

Drugs:

Drug use can have a wide range of short-term, long-term, direct, and indirect effects. Short-term effects can range from changes in appetite, wakefulness, heart rate, blood pressure, and/or mood to heart attack, stroke, psychosis, overdose, and even death. These health effects may occur after just one use.

Longer-term effects can include heart or lung disease, cancer, mental illness, HIV/AIDS, hepatitis, and other diseases. Long-term drug use can also lead to addiction. Drug addiction is a brain disorder. Not everyone who uses drugs will become addicted, but for some, drug use can change how certain brain circuits work. These brain changes interfere with how people experience normal pleasures in life and can make it much more difficult for someone to stop taking the drug even when it is having negative effects on their life and they want to quit.

Drug use can also have indirect effects on both the people who are taking drugs and on those around them. This can include affecting a person's nutrition; sleep; decision-making and impulsivity; and risk for trauma, violence, injury, and communicable diseases. Drug use can also affect babies born to women who use drugs while pregnant. Broader negative outcomes may be seen in education level, employment, housing, relationships, and criminal justice involvement.

DRUG AND ALCOHOL COUNSELING/TREATMENT

Students:

The University of Alaska Fairbanks offers counseling, proactive programming through the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities, Residence Life, Nanook Diversity and Action Center and partners with community providers to help students impacted by addiction.

Employees:

Employees experiencing substance abuse-related issues are strongly encouraged to seek confidential counseling services.

The Deer Oaks Employee Assistance Program is a free service provided for employees and their dependents and it offers a wide variety of counseling, referral, and consultation services that are completely confidential. The program can be accessed by contacting Deer Oaks directly at 1-888-993-7650 or online at <https://www.deeroakseap.com/>. See <https://www.alaska.edu/benefits/employee-assistance-progr/Fact-Sheet.pdf>. The University of Alaska employee health insurance program contains benefits for some in-patient and outpatient treatment.

University of Alaska Policy and Procedures

Standards of Conduct for Students and Employees

Students:

The University of Alaska Board of Regents' have established a set of rights and responsibilities, The Student Code of Conduct (the Code), that students attending any of the UA campuses are expected to uphold. The Code can be found in the University of Alaska Board Of Regents' Policy and University Regulation (09.02).

Applicable sections of the Code include:

Violations of the Code, that occur on property, owned or controlled by the University, or at activities authorized by the University, are subject to University student conduct review and disciplinary action by the University. The Student Code of Conduct may also apply to behavior that occurs off campus or online. See P09.02.030.B.

The University may initiate disciplinary action and impose sanctions on any student or student organization found responsible for committing, attempting to commit, or intentionally assisting in the commission of prohibited conduct. See P09.02.020.C.

P09.02.020.C14 Misuse of Alcohol:

Misuse of alcohol includes but is not limited to:

- a. use, possession, manufacture, or distribution of alcoholic beverages in violation of local, state or federal law, Regents' Policy, University Regulation, or MAU rules and procedures; or
- b. engaging in any other category of prohibited conduct while under the influence of alcohol may constitute a violation of this category.

See R09.02.020 (14).

P09.02.020.C15 Misuse of Drugs or Other Intoxicants:

Misuse of drugs or other intoxicants includes but is not limited to:

- a. use, possession, manufacture, distribution, or being under the influence of illegal drugs or other controlled substances in violation of local, state or federal law, Regents' Policy, University Regulation or MAU rules and procedures;
- b. abuse or misuse of prescription or over-the-counter medications, other chemical substances or other intoxicants;
- c. engaging in any other category of prohibited conduct while under the influence of legal drugs or other intoxicants may constitute a violation of this category; or
- d. use, possession, manufacture, distribution, or being under the influence of designer drugs.

See R09.02.020 (15).

Employees:

The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession or use by an employee of a controlled substance is prohibited in any workplace of the University. Further, the use of any legally obtained drug, including alcohol, to the point where such use adversely affects the employee's job performance, is prohibited. An employee must notify the University within five days of any conviction for criminal drug statute violations occurring on or off University premises while conducting University business. University Board of Regents' Policy and Regulations, P04.02.040 and P04.02.050, provide for a University Drug-Free Workplace; and Employee Alcohol and Controlled Substance Testing for certain employees.

Disciplinary Procedures and Sanctions for Students and Employees

Students:

Students found responsible for misuse of alcohol or other intoxicants or drugs will have disciplinary sanctions imposed. Additionally, student conduct violating federal, state, or local laws may be referred for prosecution. In determining appropriate University sanctions, a student's present and past disciplinary record, the nature of the offense, the severity of any damage, injury, or harm resulting from the prohibited behavior, and other factors relevant to the matter will be considered. The following list of sanctions is an illustrative rather than exhaustive list of disciplinary measures that may be taken by Residence Life staff, the Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities, the Chancellor, and designated student conduct officers. The University reserves the right to create other reasonable sanctions or combine sanctions, as it deems appropriate. Sanctions include:

- 1. Warning - A written notice that the student is violating or has violated the Code, and that further misconduct may result in more severe disciplinary action.
- 2. Probation - A written warning that includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if the student is found to be violating the Code during a specified probationary period.
- 3. Denial of Benefits - Specific benefits may be denied a student for a designated period of time.
- 4. Restitution - A student may be required to reimburse the University or other victims related to the misconduct for damage to or misappropriation of property or for reasonable expenses incurred.
- 5. Discretionary Sanction - Discretionary sanctions include community service work or other uncompensated labor, educational classes, research papers, reflective essays, counseling, or other sanctions that may be seen as appropriate to the circumstances of a given matter. Costs incurred by the student in fulfilling a discretionary sanction will be the responsibility of the student.

6. Restricted Access - A student may be restricted from entering certain designated areas and/or facilities or from using specific equipment for a specified period of time.

7. Suspension - The separation of the student from the University for a specified period of time, after which the student may be eligible to return. During the period of suspension, the student may be prohibited from participation in any activity authorized by the University and may be barred from all property owned or controlled by the University.

8. Expulsion - Expulsion is considered to be the permanent separation of the student from the University. The student may be prohibited from participation in any activity authorized by the University and may be barred from property owned or controlled by the University.

9. Group Sanctions - Student groups or organizations found to have violated provisions of the Code may be put on probation or sanctioned, which may include loss of University-related benefits and access to University facilities and University-held funds.

Employees:

Violation of standards of conduct will result in disciplinary action. Sanctions may include, but are not limited to, the following actions, which may be taken in any order as deemed appropriate by the University:

1. Verbal or written reprimand
2. Suspension of work with or without pay
3. A period of provisional employment
4. Termination for cause
5. Referral for prosecution
6. Required participation in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program
7. Follow up testing may be done if appropriate See R04.02.040, R04.02.050.
