DEVELOP YOUR GIFTS.

Alaska Native Studies provides students with an awareness of the scope, richness and variety of Alaska Native cultures. DANSRD offers a series of critical perspectives on the contemporary Native experience in North American society. The B.A. degree can be earned on the Fairbanks campus or through a combination of online and audio conferencing courses.

TRADITION. CHANGE. BALANCE.

The Alaska Native Studies B.A. Program allows qualified students to pursue an intensive academic program with a focus in one of three concentration areas:

- Indigenous Peoples in Law, Governance and Politics
- Alaska Native Knowledge, Cultural Resources and Expression
- Alaska Native Peoples: Health, Wellness and Environment

The Alaska Native Studies B.A. prepares students to appreciate historical and contemporary cultural dynamics. The department also welcomes students pursuing a second major or a minor. We encourage students who expect to be involved professionally in Alaska Native communities or other multicultural settings to pursue this degree.

INSPIRING CONNECTION.

Old touches new, through you.

STRENGTH. RESPECT. EXCELLENCE.

DANSRD's mission is to increase cultural awareness and strengthen leadership capacity for rural and Indigenous communities in Alaska and the Circumpolar North. Our degree programs promote academic excellence, personal development, professional skills, global awareness and respect for Indigenous cultures and commitment to community.

"The Alaska Native Studies degree has helped me tremendously with my goals and future career. The degree program introduced me to contacts that I still have today, the week long leadership seminar was the best. I am currently attending the University of Idaho, College of Law, and pursuing a J.D. with a Native American Law emphasis."

— Sharon Hildebrand, class of 2014
