The UCSC Doris Duke Conservation Scholars Program seeks to prepare a diverse group of early-career students to lead the future of environmental conservation.

Student Experience: 2-year program

Year 1
• Eight-week intensive summer field course
• Winter professional development/leadership workshop

Year 2
• Eight-week, paid summer internship

Student Benefits
• $4000 stipend each summer
• Year-round mentorship from UCSC/home institution staff
• Lifelong membership in Doris Duke Conservation Scholars professional network

For more information conservationscholars.ucsc.edu
jacummin@ucsc.edu