ED F411 Reading, Writing, Language Arts: Methods and Curriculum Development
3 Credits
Offered Fall

Study and application in the classroom of best practices from research-based strategies for the teaching and learning of reading, writing and language arts concepts. Includes content and methods for students in elementary classrooms with diverse populations. Requires development and classroom implementation of integrated reading and writing unit. Concurrent internship required. Prerequisites: Admission to Internship Year. (3+0)

7. COMPLETE CATALOG DESCRIPTION AS IT WILL APPEAR WITH THESE CHANGES: (Underline new wording strike-through old wording and use complete catalog format including dept., number, title, credits and cross-listed and stacked.) PLEASE SUBMIT NEW COURSE SYLLABUS. For stacked courses the syllabus must clearly indicate differences in required work and evaluation for students at different levels.

Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED
The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. If you ask for a change in # of credits, explain why; are you increasing the amount of material covered in the class? If you drop a prerequisite, is it because the material is covered elsewhere? If course is changing to stacked (400/600), explain higher level of effort and performance required on part of students earning graduate credit. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed change and explain what has been done to ensure that the quality of the course is not compromised as a result.

Teacher education programs are under a great deal of scrutiny to assure policy makers and the general public that future elementary teachers have sufficient content knowledge and skills in the areas in which they have teaching responsibilities and that they have clearly defined coursework to assure that they also have opportunities to acquire the methods needed to successfully teach and develop meaningful curriculum in multiple content areas.

UAF elementary teacher education interns (i.e., students in their senior year of the BA in Elementary Education degree and elementary post-baccalaureate students completing their year-long internship) currently DO have these opportunities and requirements but this has not been accurately reflected in the current distribution of credits during their internship year. As an artifact of the process of development of the original BAE degree, the number of hours that interns spend in their elementary classroom placements and in their university methods and curriculum development courses has never been accurately reflected in the course credit allocations.

It is important that we correct these inaccuracies now for the following reason:

External agencies (political entities and accreditation groups) now want more specific evidence that elementary teacher education students have dedicated coursework and internship requirements to prepare them to teach Reading, Writing, Math, Science, PE/Health and the Arts. This evidence needs to be reflected more directly and more accurately on our program requirements than it has been. Some of the work currently completed by students as part of ED 468 (a 6 credit course currently co-taught by 4 instructors) is being distributed to other courses so that the content of the courses is more clearly evident to reviewers.

ED 411: Strategies for Reading and Writing Instruction in Multi-Cultural Classrooms
3 Credits (2.5+0.0+0.5)

This is a course that has both lecture (i.e., university course time) and internship (i.e., elementary classroom time) requirements. Specific times for university course meeting times and elementary classroom internship times are included on the year-long internship calendar that is distributed each August by the UAF Department of Elementary Teacher Education.

The mission of the School of Education is to prepare educators to work in urban and rural Alaska and to work with K-12 students from many backgrounds. Through our programs and professional development courses, we promote the following goals:
- Increase the number of qualified educators for Alaska's schools
- Enhance the professional skills of Alaska's K-12 educators
- Develop and support ongoing systemic educational collaborations with Alaska schools and communities
- Conduct collaborative research on cross-cultural and multicultural education

This course supports the UAF School of Education's mission by providing students with the understandings and skills necessary to successfully address the diverse individual and cultural needs of Alaska's students, schools, and communities. Emphasis is placed upon the development of literacy of Alaska students through thoughtful instruction based on current research and responsiveness to student needs.

ED411 interns will examine methodology, instructional materials, and language arts content relevant to the instruction of developmental language, reading and writing in diverse K-8 classrooms. All ED411 interns will participate in an elementary school practicum spending significant time with children developing skills and understandings of reading and writing. ED411 interns are expected to maintain a high standard of professional ethics and enthusiastically support the education of all children.
The Alaska and UAF School of Education Standards and Performances for Culturally Responsive, Effective Practitioners are addressed in this course with special emphasis on standards 1, 2, 4, 5,6, and 8.

Recommended Resources:
ACTIVITIES AND ASSESSMENTS

Class Participation (P) – Rubric on page 6

Participation in the class is crucial. Attendance in class, participation in discussions both in class and on Blackboard, and peer response will be assessed. ED411 interns are expected to contribute knowledge and experience. Assignments for this part of the class may include:

- Quizzes on the Goals for Developing Readers from Becoming a Reader by O'Donnell and Wood (see page 15)
- In-class activities such as whole-group discussions, peer-response and small group work
- Read Aloud Lesson Plan

Classroom Profile (CP) - Rubric on page 7

ED411 interns will create a classroom profile to identify important information about each student that can affect student learning. Information such as learning styles, student interests, demographics (class size, ages, grades, family sizes, military deployments, etc.), developmental levels in literacy, attitudes about school and learning and media permissions should be included. ED411 interns will develop the profile with their mentor and may include parents in identifying important characteristics about students. Surveys for students and for families can be developed. Attitudes about reading and writing should be included and also used in the Literacy Development Profiles.

Literacy Development Profiles (LDP) - Rubric on page 9 Continues through the Spring semester in ED469

ED411 interns will utilize assessments provided by the cooperating teacher, professional references or developed by the ED411 intern to develop Literacy Development Profiles on select students. These profiles will be used to facilitate planning and monitor student progress. Assessments will include teacher-made quizzes or tests, anecdotal records based on observing children, student reading and writing samples, and spelling assessments. ED411 interns will document student progress in reading and writing quarterly for a small group of students. Interns will analyze student reading and writing samples and create plans for instruction based on student needs throughout the semester. Interns will share student work and progress with parents, as appropriate.

Week of Teaching, Language Arts (WOTLA) *Rubric TBA

ED411 Interns will assume the teaching of reading, writing, language arts for one week during the fall semester with the direction of the mentor teacher. Differentiated instruction will be a focus. Interns will prepare lesson plans to be approved by mentor teacher and instructor prior to teaching and develop a final submission including all lesson plans with reflections, student work samples and overall final reflection after the completion of teaching.

- Guided or Shared Reading Instruction that includes before, during and after reading discussion and/or activities.
- Word Study: Spelling, vocabulary and/or phonics instruction related to students' instructional needs.
- Writing Process Project related to reading selection focused on a key writing Alaska Grade Level Expectation.
- Independent Self Selected Reading by students.
- Read Aloud selections.

Each Intern will lead guided or shared reading instruction as well as provide students opportunities for self selected reading. "Guided Reading," means that the students are responsible for most of the reading (ex. partner reading, individual reading). "Shared Reading" means that younger students may read with the teacher (ex. choral reading, echo reading).
“Self selected reading” must include the following four components: choice, time, recordkeeping and sharing. Instruction must include a focus on an Alaska Performance Standard in reading.

Each Intern will lead a writing project following the writing process: prewrite, drafting which includes revision and editing, and sharing. The topic of writing projects can be related to reading selections chosen for instruction or integrated into another curricular area such as social studies or science. Topics should relate to students' lives. Instruction must include a focus on an Alaska Performance Standard in writing.

GRADING

Final course grades will be determined through standards-based and points-based criteria. Interns will receive feedback on assignments through competency-based rubrics and narrative feedback and will earn points through participating in course activities. Final grades in the class will be determined by the competency ratings on the rubrics for the major activities in the class and total points earned. For any unmet competencies, interns will need to complete an ESSAP Plan of Improvement developed by the instructor (see page 4 of syllabus). All competencies must be met in order to pass the course. The ED411 instructor will provide timely feedback to all interns in the form of competency-based rubrics, narratives and postings on the gradebook on Blackboard.

Point System – 180 points possible

Attend and Participate in each class session = 10 points each

Due Dates Met = 10 points each (Half credit will be given for late, but completed assignments)

- CP (Initial and Peer Reviews) 20
- LDP (1st Quarter and 2nd Quarter) 20
- WOTLA (Initial and Final) 20
- Read-Aloud Lesson Plan 10

Read-Aloud Lesson Plan Completed = 10 points

Final Quiz on Goals for Developing Readers = 20 points

Attendance

Students are expected to attend all classes and be actively involved in class discussions and class projects. In case of absence students are responsible for getting information from other students. Due to the high level of student group work involved in this class, regular attendance is very important and will be included in determination of the course grade. All handouts will be posted on the ED 411 Blackboard site. Students are expected to submit all assignments on time. Late assignments will be accepted only when students have an occasional legitimate and excused absence.

Plagiarism

The following is excerpted from the UAF Student Code of Conduct (BOR POLICY 09.02.02):

As with all members of the university community, the University of Alaska requires students to conduct themselves honestly and responsibly, and to respect the rights of others. Conduct that unreasonably interferes with the learning environment or that violates the rights of others is prohibited by the standards and guidelines described in this section and in University Regulation and MAU rules and procedures, collectively referred to as the Student Code of Conduct, or Code. Students and student organizations will be responsible for ensuring that they and their guests comply with the Code while on property owned or controlled by the university or at activities authorized by the university.

Disciplinary action may be initiated by the university and disciplinary sanctions imposed against any student or student organization found responsible for committing, attempting to commit, or intentionally assisting in the commission of prohibited forms of conduct including cheating, plagiarism, or other forms of academic dishonesty.

The University has established procedures for enforcing the UA code of conduct. Each student at the University shall be afforded due process in all disciplinary matters. For a complete guide to these procedures, please refer to Regents regulation 09.02. Copies of this are available in the Dean of Students office, Wood Center, on the University web page (http://info.alaska.edu/ua/bor/regulation/9r/r09-02.html), and the library.

Support Services

All written materials prepared outside of class will be assessed on the basis of content and on the use of appropriate writing conventions. The Writing Center on the 8th Floor of the Grunening Building is an excellent resource for all UAF students. Please take advantage of it. There is no charge for UAF students.

Disabilities Services

The University of Alaska Fairbanks is committed to equal opportunity for students with disabilities. Students with disabilities are encouraged to contact the coordinator of Disability Services (Mary Matthews) at the Center for Health & Counseling (474-7043).
ED411 - Participation Rubric

Interns will be assessed through class discussions, written responses, email responses and participation on Blackboard discussion boards, as appropriate.

ED411syllabusfall11.doc
ED411 2011 Classroom Profile Assignment and Rubric
Due Monday, September 12 – Initial Submission
Due Monday, December 12 – Update (See competency 8.6 – Target Rating)

ED411 interns will create a classroom profile to identify important information about each student that may impact student learning. Required information includes demographics (class size, ages, grades, family sizes, military deployments, etc.), developmental/achievement levels in literacy based on previous year’s ending grades or assessments from the beginning of this year, each student’s areas of interest, and response from families regarding media permission (VideoReleaseform_letterhead.doc - Can this student be included in photographs/videos intern takes to illustrate intern’s work in the classroom?).

ED411 interns should develop the profile with their mentor and may include parents in identifying important characteristics about students. A short narrative (no more than 2-pages) should be included to describe collaboration and reflect on the collection of the information for this profile. Surveys for students and for families can be developed or interns can meet with students on an individual basis during break times. Preferred learning styles and attitudes about reading and writing can be included and also used in the Literacy Development Profiles.

ED411 students will post classroom profiles on the Blackboard Discussion Board after receiving feedback from instructor and will review the profiles of 3 peers reflecting on how their own profiles compare or contrast and, if applicable, how their own profiles might be updated or modified.

The classroom profile can be updated throughout the year and can be included in the Lesson Plan Notebook, Unit or Week of Teaching packets, and the Full-time Student Teaching packet.

Examples of profiles completed by former students can be reviewed at the following links:

ED 411 – Literacy Development Profiles (LDP)

Part 1: First Quarter Samples – Due by the week of October 10
Part 2: Second Quarter Samples - Due by the week of December 5
Assessments for Third Quarter and Final Fourth Quarter Overview will be submitted in the Spring in ED468 (Due dates TBA)

ED411 interns will utilize assessments provided by the cooperating teacher, professional references or developed by the ED411 intern to develop Literacy Development Profiles on select students. These profiles will be used to facilitate planning and monitor student progress. Assessments will include teacher-made/published quizzes or tests, anecdotal records based on observing children, student reading and writing samples, and spelling assessments. ED411 interns will document student progress in reading and writing quarterly for a small group of students. Interns will analyze student reading and writing samples and create plans for instruction based on student needs throughout the semester. Interns will share student work and progress with parents, as appropriate, during informal meetings or parent conferences.

Competencies assessed:
- 2-1/4-2 Apply knowledge of developmental abilities of students when assessing student work and make appropriate revisions to instruction based on the demonstrated ability and knowledge level of students
- 4-7 Clearly communicate information and instructions
- 5-5 Select, adapt, develop and use a variety of types of formal and informal assessment tools and strategies that reinforce student learning and that help students develop an ability to reflect on their own progress
- 5-6 Select, adapt, develop and use performance assessments and understand why it is important to do this
- 5-7 Integrate assessment and instruction
- 5-8 Demonstrate the ability to design a realistic plan for recording and use assessment results that can be shared with students, parents and others
- 8-1 Adheres to the State’s Code of Ethics http://www.eed.state.ak.us/TeacherCertification/20AAC10.html
- 9-1: Demonstrate knowledge and application of technology for professional responsibilities (e.g. lesson planning, recording of grades, communication with students, families and colleagues, delivering instruction)

Part 1: First Quarter
Assess a select group of students (5-10 students) in reading during student-with-teacher reading, whole and small group reading and/or individual reading to determine relative reading level and appropriate reading selections for each student. Assess the same students in writing through analyzing two or more writing samples demonstrating the developmental level of each student to develop plans for instruction for each student. Work with your mentor to determine the make-up of the student group. Attitudes about reading and writing can be included and also used in the Classroom Profile.

- Develop a system for recording results of assessments that will facilitate sharing with UAF instructor, mentor, students and parents. Include copies of student work or assessment documentation.
- Develop an initial plan for instruction based on assessments and include the students, if possible, in setting and reflecting on goals.

Part 2: Second Quarter
Assess each student again in reading through observation during student-with-teacher reading, whole and small group reading and individual reading and document growth from initial assessment. Assess each student again in writing through analyzing two or more writing samples appropriate to the developmental level of each student to document growth from initial assessment.

- Refine a system for recording results of assessments that will facilitate sharing with UAF instructor, mentor, students and parents. Include copies of student work or assessment documentation.
- Develop a plan for instruction based on assessments for the spring semester.
- If you were able to share your profiles during parent conferences, demonstrate by including a separate narrative about the experience.

| 5-5 Select, adapt, develop and use a variety of types of formal and informal assessment tools and strategies that reinforce student learning and that help students develop an ability to reflect on their own progress | Intern assesses the reading and writing providing samples of dated student work and/or dated anecdotal notes.
- Intern assesses at least 5 students at the start and end of the quarter in reading through multiple means.
- Intern assesses characteristics of at least 5 students as writers by using multiple samples of a student's writing at the start and at the end of the quarter.
- Intern provides a short overview explaining the assessments chosen and their usefulness for each student. | All criteria in the "Meets Standard" column plus
- Plans for the following quarter are included.
- Quarter 1: Intern develops 1-3 goals with each student for reading and writing. What would each student like to do better or learn more about in the area of reading and writing?
- Quarters 2, 3 and 4: Intern documents conferences with each student in which the intern reviews with the students the work collected and goals set in earlier quarters. Students’ insights and revised goals, if applicable, are noted. |
| 2-1/4-2 Apply knowledge of developmental abilities of students when assessing student work and make appropriate revisions to instruction based on the demonstrated ability and knowledge level of students | For each student each quarter, intern develops a plan for instruction for each student profiled noting areas of strength and areas of need of instruction based on assessments. (1-2 paragraphs) | All criteria in the "Meets Standard" column plus
- Lesson plans taught by intern are included that show differentiation for students profiled. |
| 5-7 Integrate assessment and instruction | Intern develops a system for recording assessments and plans for instructions and reviews with UAF instructor, mentor, students and families as appropriate. | All criteria in the "Meets Standard" column plus

4-1 Develop and teach a series of lessons (e.g. unit) in each major content area as defined by ACEI (math, science, social studies, language arts, health & PE, art) that demonstrates knowledge of the content (i.e. reflects accurate information in the subject area), knowledge of central concepts (i.e. focuses on an important area of the subject that is recognized as valuable to teach), knowledge of tools of inquiry (i.e. reflects “best practice” approaches to teaching that subject area)

4-2 Apply knowledge of developmental abilities of students when assessing student work and make appropriate revisions to instruction based on the demonstrated ability and knowledge level of students

4-3 Use a variety of instructional strategies, and when appropriate, uses technology to support instruction in the content areas

4-4 Help students make connections within and across disciplines

4-5 Connect content in a teaching activity to students’ prior knowledge and to practical “real-life” situations encountered outside the school (especially in the students’ community)

4-6 Provide evidence of on-going professional development and a commitment to lifelong learning

(Cross-listed with 8-4)

4-7 Clearly communicate information and instructions

4-8 Enhance students’ critical thinking abilities by using higher-level questions and/or questioning skills to help students extend their thinking and is developing a repertoire of realistic projects and problem-solving activities designed to assist all students in demonstrating ability to think creatively

Standard V: Multiple Assessments Linked with Varied Instructional Strategies & Resources

The student facilitates, monitors, and assesses student learning.

5-1 Recognize the differences in cultural, linguistic and geographic backgrounds of students and demonstrate the ability to build upon the diversity within the classroom in their teaching responsibilities (e.g., lesson and unit development, assignments, assessments, classroom structure and management) (Cross-listed with 2-4 and 3-2)

5-2 Develop and use instructional plans (e.g., lessons, units, projects) that are directly aligned with the district’s and state’s standards and curriculum

5-3 Supplement teachers’ manuals and textbooks with both modified and original instructional resources and teaching strategies that are relevant to the lives of his/her students and meaningful in the real-world contexts of students’ communities

5-4 Select instructional resources that directly support students in their ability to develop proficiency in the state’s performance standards

5-5 Select, adapt, develop and use a variety of types of formal and informal assessment tools and strategies that reinforce student learning and that help students develop an ability to reflect on their own progress

5-6 Select, adapt, develop and use performance assessments and understand why it is important to do this

5-7 Integrate assessment and instruction

5-8 Demonstrate the ability to design a realistic plan for recording and use assessment results that can be shared with students, parents and others
5-9 Demonstrate the ability to continually modify and adapt plans based on assessment information and to be flexible in the teaching process (Cross-listed with 6-7)

Standard VI: Effective Learning Environments Created
The teacher knows how to create and maintain a learning environment in which all students are actively engaged and contributing members.

6-1 Demonstrate an ability to establish a positive classroom environment that accepts, affirms and constructively builds upon the diversity of the students (Cross-listed with 3-4)

Standard IX. Use of Technology

9-1: Demonstrate knowledge and application of technology for professional responsibilities (e.g. lesson planning, recording of grades, communication with students, families and colleagues, delivering instruction)

9-2: Provide instruction and support for students in the use of technology
Goals for Developing Readers

Taken from Becoming a Reader: A Developmental Approach to Reading Instruction
by Michael O’Donnell and Margo Wood

In which activities are these goals being supported in your classrooms?

Emergent Readers
1. Seek out and enjoy books
2. Become familiar with the language of literature and patterns of stories
3. Understand and follow the sequence of stories read to them
4. Begin to acquire specific understandings about the nature, purpose and function of print
5. Begin to hear the separate speech sounds in words.
6. Experiment with reading and writing through approximation
7. See themselves as readers and writers

Initial Readers
1. Understand that reading is a meaning-making process
2. Acquire sight vocabulary
3. Make balanced use of the cueing systems in written language (syntax, graphophonemics, and semantics) to identify words not known at sight

Transitional Readers
1. Increase fluency in reading and writing
2. Increase motivation to read and write
3. Focus on meaning in reading and writing

Basic Literacy
1. Expand breadth of experience in reading
2. Comprehend increasingly complex reading material
3. Extend meaning vocabulary
