Faculty/Budget: An instructor will be required to teach the new course. This can be added to an existing faculty member's workload or taught by an adjunct instructor. The instructor will need to be available to conduct site supervision.

Space: The new course will need classroom space. Counseling classes are taught in the early evening and utilize video and/or audio conference classrooms. The courses are taught to students on campus and by distance delivery at the same time.

Have you contacted the library collection development officer (kljensen@alaska.edu, 474-6695) with regard to the... adequacy of library/media collections, equipment, and services available for the proposed course?  If so, give date of contact and resolution.  If not, explain why not.

| No | XX | Yes | This course will not require additional library resources. |

20. IMPACTS ON PROGRAMS/DEPTS
What programs/departments will be affected by this proposed action?
Include information on the Programs/Departments contacted (e.g., email, memo)
The Counseling Department will be affected by this action. The number of credits required for the M. Ed. in Counseling and the School Counselor Certification program does not change. The internship credits are simply distributed between the existing internship classes and the new internship classes.
Advanced internship classes (Internship III and Internship IV) will provide students with new information and skills different than they received in their first year of internship. It will also provide a forum for discussion with students who have previously completed a year of internship placement.

21. POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACTS
Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.

Positive: Students in the advanced internship classes will receive instruction tailored to their level of experience, separating them from students who are in introductory internship placements.
Negative: Another instructor is needed, impacting the budget.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED
The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

Students in the School Counseling concentration of the M. Ed. in Counseling degree or the School Counseling Certification program must complete two semesters of Internship for EACH level of certification they are seeking (elementary and secondary). Currently students register for COUN F636, Internship I twice and COUN F690, Internship II twice. During the second semesters of these courses experienced students are grouped with initial students. Students in their second full year of internship require different knowledge, skills and discussion. Creating advanced internship classes answers this need.
Students earning K-12 school counseling certification will complete Internship I, II, III, IV.
Students in the Community Counseling concentration of the degree must complete 3 semesters of Internship total. The addition of COUN 691, Internship III provides the same benefits mentioned above.
Students in the Community Counseling program will complete Internship I, II, III.

Course Description:
The course is designed to give counseling program candidates experience and supervised practice in the broad scope of activities (i.e., record keeping, individual and group counseling, information and referral, consultation, in-service and staff/faculty meetings, supervision) engaged in by either fully credentialed school counselors or licensed professional counselors. Students must have already completed two semesters of field placement, and therefore the course is designed to give the candidate an opportunity to engage in in-depth case discussion and feedback regarding their role as a professional counselor. The internship requires a minimum of 300 hours of which 180-240 hours are in direct services (180 for school counselors/240 for community counselors).

Course Objectives:
To expand upon skills developed during other courses and further provide students with a practical training experience that allows them to function as a professional counselor in an approved clinical setting under the supervision of an appropriately trained counselor.

Student Learning Outcomes
After completing this course, students will be able to:

- Understand and perform a variety of professional activities (i.e., record keeping, information and referral, consultation, in-service and staff/faculty meetings, supervision).
- To provide students the opportunity to relate theory to practice and evaluate and test counseling philosophies and attitudes within the context in which they must be made.
- To use their understanding of multicultural and diversity issues and needs in order for them to provide culturally responsive services.
- Evaluate their professional strengths and weaknesses and evaluate their professional growth.
- To use their professional experiences to gain an understanding and appreciation of professional, ethical, and legal issues and behavior

Instructional Methods
Classes with consist of distance student and on campus students connected by audio/video conferencing. Five major methods will be utilized in the class to facilitate the students’ understanding the course information: 1) Lecture to keynote major findings in subject, 2) Readings to further elaborate on subject, 3) Presentations, and 4) Projects, 5) student participation with weekly updates on their internship experiences.
Required Texts:

Recommended Texts:

Other readings may be assigned by the instructor throughout the term.

Course Requirements:
Students will be evaluated based on four major criteria: class participation, theorist integration paper/presentation, case conceptualization, and case notes. All papers need to be typed, double-spaced, and include a list of references where applicable. Papers are expected to be well-written, well thought out, and be grammatically correct. Unless stated otherwise, writing should conform to APA style, including citations and references. Completion of course requirements includes the timely submission of all assignments and paperwork including: informed consent agreement, proof of insurance for community placements, site supervisor information form, log of hours, case notes, and on-site supervisor evaluations. Students are expected to be knowledgeable of and adhere to the American Counseling Association’s 2005 Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice and/or the American School Counselor Association’s 2010 Ethical Standards for School Counselors. Failure by the student to adhere to the their professional codes will result in disciplinary actions. Depending upon the severity and duration of the ethical breach, disciplinary actions may include: educative advisories or warnings, being placed on probationary status, suspension of training, or expulsion from training.

1. Class Participation: Attendance and participation in class is required. Graduate seminars require a high level of personal involvement, accountability, and integrity. It is expected that students will come to class prepared – having completed readings, completed assignments, and ready to participate in discussion. At times students will be asked to participate in blackboard discussions. Students must answer all required blackboard posts with a minimum of a paragraph of directly related content. Absence does not relieve a student from the responsibility of completing all assignments prior to the due date, or for material presented in a missed class session. Late assignments will not be accepted without prior approval from the instructor, and if accepted may reflect an automatic minimum 10% decrease in grade. Your participation grade will reflect your attendance, your ability to integrate information, adequately discuss your viewpoints, and appropriately respond to feedback. All personal information shared in class, within the course blackboard site, and with agency or school personnel should be kept confidential. Students are expected to communicate in a timely manner any questions, concerns, conflicts, or needs to the appropriate supervisory personnel; and demonstrate teamwork, mutual respect, leadership, and openness to professional feedback.

2. Theorist Integration Paper/Presentation: Students are to select the work of one theorist and present its application to the class. The intern will write a paper that integrates a discussion of his or her theoretical orientation and assessment of self in relationship to the theoretical orientation they see themselves using. The paper will document experiences, growth, and professional development during the internship, but is also to focus on a future orientation whereby the counselor discusses not only where they see themselves now, but also where they see themselves going as a professional counselor. The presentation will focus on the theoretical integration into practice. Students are to focus on specific points of the theory that they feel would be helpful and applicable to other students.

3. Case Conceptualization: Students are required to complete an in-depth case study using the case conceptualization format in the internship manual. Students will present their case study to the class for discussion purposes. As time allows, additional cases may be presented either formally or informally as requested by the instructor.

4. Case Notes: Students are required to complete a log of their internship hours, a weekly log of their on-site activities, and case notes for all on-going individual and group counseling sessions. The final log with original signatures must be submitted by the last night of class unless otherwise arranged with the university instructor. In addition, students are to coordinate three (3) site visits with their on-site supervisor and UAF supervisor(s) per semester (see internship manual for specific requirements, timelines, and forms). Off campus students will have one site visit and two audio/video conferences with university supervisor.

Note: In many academic disciplines students are evaluated solely on their academic performance. However, students in the Counseling Program are evaluated on both their academic performance as well as their professional characteristics. Although a student may be in good academic standing, they must receive satisfactory evaluations from faculty members regarding their professional characteristics in order to continue on in the program. The faculty will evaluate the student’s professional characteristics in relation to their ability to become a viable member of the counseling community. Students will meet with the faculty following each evaluation and the results of the evaluation will be discussed. Insubordinate and argumentative behavior in response to feedback in one or more environments may be a basis for dismissal from the Counseling Program.

Evaluation and Grading:
Your grade will be determined by your satisfactory completion of all the requirements outlined in the syllabus, along with your university supervisor’s evaluations of your competency and practical skills. Specific grading components include: performance at the internship site (including completion of paperwork as required by university and site guidelines), completion of hours, supervision evaluations, case presentations, theory integration paper, and class attendance and participation. Assessment of practical skill will be based on the following evaluations (forms located in the Counseling Program Internship Manual): university supervisor site visit evaluations (3), on-site supervisor evaluation (1), on site supervisor professional characteristics feedback form (1). The site and university supervisor’s evaluation will be considered in determining your grade, the university course instructor will assign the final grade for practicum.

Class Participation 10%  (100 points)
Integration Paper/Presentation 15%  (150 points)
Case Conceptualization 35%  (350 points)
Case Notes 10%  (100 points)
Evaluation 30%  (300)

A = 1000 – 900
B = 899 - 800
C = 799 – 700
D = 699 - 600

Course Policies:
Students are required to obtain a university-issued username for use of email and Blackboard. If the university server is not your primary email address, you are expected to set it up so that all emails are forwarded from the university server account. Additionally, students are required to access Blackboard regularly for announcements, documents, and other postings.

An incomplete grade (I) will be assigned only if two conditions have been met. First, the student must have completed the majority of course work, written assignments, presentation, and examinations, and earned a grade of "C" or better. Normally, a grade of "I" will be given only when there has been participation until at least the last three weeks of the semester. Second, documented evidence must be submitted to substantiate the fact that course completion was prevented because of personal problems, such as a medical or family emergency. Failing to complete the course, whether due to negligence or indifference, will result in a grade of "F" unless there has been an official course withdrawal. If an "I" is assigned, completion of all course work is the responsibility of the student. All course work must be completed within one year following the semester that the "I" was given.

Students must abide by academic integrity standards as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct found in the UAF Catalog: Academic and Regulations Chapter. The UAF Code of Conduct can be found online at http://www.uaf.edu/catalog/current/academics/regs3.html#Student_Conduct. In this course if it is found that a student has knowingly plagiarized they will receive a failing grade for the course. Remember to use proper citation to avoid plagiarism. Plagiarism is representing someone else's ideas and work as your own. Plagiarism includes not only copying verbatim, but also rephrasing the ideas of another without properly acknowledging the source. As they prepare and submit work to meet course requirements, whether a draft or a final version of a paper or project, students must take great care to distinguish their own ideas and language from information derived from sources. Sources include published primary and secondary materials, electronic media, and information and opinions gained directly from other people. (Capella University Learner Handbook, 2006, p. 14)
