10. ESTIMATED IMPACT
    WHAT IMPACT, IF ANY, WILL THIS HAVE ON BUDGET, FACILITIES/SPACE, FACULTY, ETC.
    FACULTY: Adding the recommended prerequisite will have a positive impact on the faculty and instructors teaching this course. It will increase the chances that students taking the course have been introduced to research methodology, decreasing the amount of time instructors have to spend reviewing core concepts. Removing the community service component will allow (1) faculty easier management of sections with high enrollment, and (2) flexibility in whether to and in how to incorporate service learning.
    BUDGET: This change is in response to budget pull-backs, providing a better match of curriculum offerings with facility resources.
    FACILITIES/SPACE: We anticipate higher enrollment since we are proposing to only offer it every other year; hence, we would likely need a larger classroom than the one currently used when it is offered.

11. LIBRARY COLLECTIONS
    Have you contacted the library collection development officer (kljensen@alaska.edu, 474-6295) with regard to the adequacy of library/media collections, equipment, and services available for the proposed course? If so, give date of contact and resolution. If not, explain why not.
    No [ ] Yes [XX]
    Dr. Tim Linder spoke with Diane Ruesch regarding all curriculum changes being submitted.
12. IMPACTS ON PROGRAMS/DEPTS:
What programs/departments will be affected by this proposed action? Include information on the Programs/Departments contacted (e.g., email, memo).

No other programs should be impacted by these changes; they are internal to Psychology. We are not aware of any other department or program using this course in their curriculum.

13. POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACTS
Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.

POSITIVE: Psychology students will receive a more consistent message of the importance of PSY F275. The department will be able to move away from outdated concepts of 'community service' toward more current thinking around 'service learning'. Most importantly, the department will have much more flexibility in how to manage this course which historically has a higher enrollment.

NEGATIVE: Students will have less frequent access to course content.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED:
The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committee is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. If you ask for a change in # of credits, explain why; are you increasing the amount of material covered in the class? If you drop a prerequisite, is it because the material is covered elsewhere? If course is changing to stacked (400/600), explain higher level of effort and performance required on part of students earning graduate credit. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed change and explain what has been done to ensure that the quality of the course is not compromised as a result.

PREREQUISITE CHANGE: Our department wants to send a strong message regarding the importance of research methodology. We have made deliberate decisions regarding for which courses it will be required and which ones recommended. Regarding adding "permission of instructor": Students should be aware that instructors have the ability to waive prerequisites in special circumstances.

COMMUNITY SERVICE: In the ten years this requirement has been in place, several things have happened: (1) the research and thinking around incorporating service into academics has developed significantly, (2) our enrollments and number of majors has increased significantly (placing high burden on the community to support mandated service), (3) our need for adjuncts in this course has increased necessitating more flexibility in the course criteria, (4) the requirement and criteria as written has had some negative impact on our community partners, and (5) reviews of our outcomes assessment reveal a need for change. In the context of the program change, we are removing the community service requirement from designated courses and addressing the commitment to service learning through a different mechanism.

FREQUENCY OF OFFERING CHANGE: Budgetary pull-backs and subsequent unapproved requests to replace departing faculty have necessitated changes in course offerings. While students will have less access to this course, it will increase enrollment when it is offered and provide the department more flexibility in scheduling.

COURSE DESCRIPTION: The course is regularly offered via CDE.

Addendum: Course material investigates psychology of human experience when things go wrong. This course will focus on the incidence, etiology, and assessment of dysfunctional behavior patterns with children, adolescents, adults, and families. Students will learn models of assessment to evaluate human functioning throughout the life cycle, with emphasis on vulnerable and diverse populations. Major nosological systems, such as the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, will be covered.

COURSE READINGS:
Belmont, CA: Thomson Wadsworth.
http://www.ichapters.com/market/isbn.html?isbn=0495095567&cid=D2S

*There is no fully searchable DSM-IV-TR available online. For more information on classification see http://psyweb.com/Mdisord/DSM_IV/jsp/dsm_iv.jsp

COURSE GOALS and STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES:
1. Identification and differentiation between biological, psychosocial, and cultural theories on the etiology of dysfunctional behavior patterns.
2. Application of multiple methods of assessment, including those developed through classification systems, standardized measures, and qualitative typologies.
3. Identify the relationship between assessment and intervention in clinical practice.
4. Adapt assessment models to reflect the needs of person of diverse social, economic, cultural or ethnic backgrounds, including understanding issues of gender, sexual orientation, and developmental abilities.
5. Critically evaluate different theoretical and assessment models as to their efficacy in given situations.
6. Identify the limitations in using classification schemes in understanding human behavior and the danger of mislabeling people, particularly those from at-risk populations.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS:
Lecture, class discussions, videos, activities, case study, demonstrations, and use of Blackboard.

ATTENDANCE:
Attendance is not mandatory, but important for obtaining information from class sessions that will be pertinent to exams.
COURSE POLICIES:

- An absence at any time does not relieve you of your responsibility for material covered in class, assignments, or adhering to announced deadlines. Please try to get this information from your fellow students.
- I reserve the right to change portions of this syllabus, including the class schedule, presentation or quiz format, and grading criteria. If I do so, I will provide notification.
- Engaging in cheating or plagiarism will result in a failing grade for this course, as well as referral to the office of the Associate Vice Chancellor for Student Life.

It is my policy to be available for students whenever possible. Please notify me if you have any problems or concerns with this class e.g., material, study skills, etc. I will be glad to make an appointment to speak with you.

EVALUATION:
POINT SCALE:
2 Exams @ 100 points each  200 points
Writing Assignment  150 points
Total Points  350 points

Final Grade
A = 315-350  (Superior Work)
B = 280-314  (Above Average Work)
C = 245-279  (Average Work)
D = 210-244  (Below Class Expectations)
F = below 210  (Failing Work)

An incomplete grade (I) for the course will be assigned ONLY if three conditions have been met: (1) arrangements are made with the instructor BEFORE the last day of class; (2) you have completed 3/4 of the course work, written assignments and tests, and earned a grade of “C” or better; AND (3) documented evidence is submitted to substantiate the fact that course completion was prevented by an emergency (e.g., medical or family emergency).

Normally, an “I” grade will be given only when the student has attended and participated in class until at least the last 2 weeks of the session. Failure to attend or complete the course, will result in a grade of “F,” unless there has been an official course withdrawal.

EXAMS:
There will be two exams. Each will be worth 100 points. Your exams will contain information from class and your textbook(s) as well as supplemental handouts/journal articles and/or audio/visual materials I will present. Exam dates: Friday, October 9 and Wednesday, December 16.

IMPORTANT: This is one of the questions for Exam Two (your Final Exam). You will turn it in on December 16th when you take Exam Two in class.

Chose and read one book, fiction or non-fiction. In 2 pages, apply what you have learned with regard to Abnormal Psychology. The document should be typed, double-spaced and clearly divided into three sections:

a) Summary (10 points) - provide a brief summary of the book and main character,

b) Abnormal Behavior (25 points) - describe actions, thoughts and feelings of this main character that might be considered abnormal,

c) Possible Diagnoses (35 points) - provide a detailed discussion of how these actions, thoughts and feelings fit and/or do not fit into possible diagnoses of mental disorders as covered in this course.
I may award up to 10 extra points for a unique and especially interesting presentation of material.

Book choice. By September 25th, submit to me, in writing, the title of the book you plan to use for your analysis. It would be wise to discuss your choice with me ahead of this date.

Exams will be given on the dates and times listed. Any exceptions to this MUST be worked out with the instructor, in person, at least a week before the exam. If a truly unavoidable emergency prevents taking the exam, you must make contact with me within 24 hours of the scheduled exam time. By “contact,” I mean actual feedback from myself personally via a phone call which you and I speak, in person in my office, or an email which I respond to. “Contact” is not leaving me an email or a phone call with no response from me and “assuming” everything is ok.

Also, there will be no exams and/or assignments due on a Monday, so there is no need to worry about finding me over a weekend. Requests for make-ups must be accompanied by written documentation describing the necessity. In the unlikely event of a make-up test, the format will be all essays and MUST be scheduled within 24 hours of the scheduled exam time. If you miss an exam you receive 0 Points for that work.

WRITING ASSIGNMENT:
There will be one writing assignment, worth 150 points. You will be given a case study and will have the opportunity to first discuss classification of the individual’s mental health, then your recommendations for assessment and intervention. Recommendations will need to reflect a culturally appropriate client-centered approach. Your recommendations must be based on literature/research which supports your assessment/intervention plan. The assignment will be five pages long, typed and double spaced, APA format.

The rules of APA format, detailed in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, offer sound guidance for writing with simplicity, power, and concision. APA Style has been adapted by many disciplines and is used by writers around the world. I will briefly present on APA style, but for more information, check out http://www.apastyle.org. Due date: November 13th.

LATE WORK
If your work is late, it will be reduced by one letter grade per day.
