Include information on the Programs/Departments contacted (e.g., email, memo)
MBA program only

21. POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACTS
Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.
No impact on other programs or departments. Currently MBA courses are full so this adds options for MBA students.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED
The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

This course has been taught several times within the “Topics” context. Controllership is a standard topic in MBA programs and the MBA committee felt that it was time to make the course permanent. It is being developed online so it adds to what we have to offer our MBA students around Alaska.

TEXT:

Additional Readings & Videos: The purchase of videos and additional materials (at a minimal cost) is required throughout the course.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
An advanced course designed to meet the accounting needs of managers. Topics of study include evaluating the design and implementation of management control systems and making recommendations for efficiency and effectiveness, recognizing the ethical, environmental, legal/regulatory, political and social issues embedded within the design, evaluation and effective implementation of management control systems.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
1) To critically evaluate the design and implementation of management control systems, and make recommendations that will make these systems more efficient and effective mechanisms to implement strategy.
2) To recognize the ethical, environmental, legal/regulatory, political, and social issues embedded within the design, evaluation, and effective implementation of management control systems.
3) To enhance critical thinking skills through the qualitative and quantitative analysis of case studies.

4) To improve communication skills through the write-up, presentation and class discussion of case studies.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS:

The course format includes video lectures, directed reading assignments, class discussion boards and presentations and discussions using voice thread.

COURSE POLICIES:

Students are expected to attend and participate in both the class and discussions. Students will be penalized for all late submission of class assignments. With the exception of the final all material will be submitted through blackboard.

Academic Integrity

As described by UAF, scholastic dishonesty constitutes a violation of the university rules and regulations and is punishable according to the procedures outlined by UAF. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on an exam, plagiarism, and collusion. Cheating includes providing answers to or taking answers from another student. Plagiarism includes use of another author’s words or arguments without attribution. Collusion includes unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing written work for fulfillment of any course requirement. Scholastic dishonesty is punishable by removal from the course and a grade of “F.” For more information go to Student Code of Conduct located at (http://www.uaf.edu/catalog/catalog_13-14/academics/regs3.html#Student_Conduct).

COURSE EVALUATION:

Final Exam: There will be a final written exam. It will contain three to five introspective questions (A case may be included) designed to force students to reflect back on the course content and communicate what they have personally learned from the material and the course.

Fraud Issue Assignment: Each student is required to discuss a recent case of fraud that they have found from searching local newspapers or other media. This discussion should be centered on the fraud triangle. A two-page paper is also required. This paper will discuss how the fraud might have been prevented if and how committing the fraud is explained by the fraud triangle.

Quizzes: Quizzes will be administered through blackboard on the assigned readings and video lectures. These quizzes will be cumulative in nature. Due dates will be listed in the weekly assignments. No extensions will be granted. Many of these questions will relate to topics that are reviewed and not covered in the text.
One-Page Case Reports: To promote discussion and insure that cases are prepared for each class students’ are required to prepare at a minimum a one page case report. The report should answer the question(s) if assigned.

Online Case Discussion: This grade is subjective and worth 20%. Each case assigned will be discussed using blackboard.

Paper & Presentation: You will be required to write a three to five page paper on corporate governance. Using voice thread you will present your paper. A minimum of three acceptable references beyond your textbook must be used. The paper must address the following: 1) Describe corporate governance; 2) include a discussion of internal and external mechanisms; and 3) include a discussion of SOX.

NOTE: The instructor reserve the right to lower an individual’s grade by up to one letter grade for each unexcused absence. This includes being consistently late.

Grading Policy: The following points will be assigned to quizzes and examinations:
