

Eileen's

House

The Eileen Panigeo MacLean House was established to provide students from the Arctic region and other rural areas of Alaska with a safe, inviting, and supportive community environment that would be helpful in the transition from small, tight-knit rural communities to the hustle and bustle of university life in the city of Fairbanks. The Eileen Panigeo MacLean House offers students the opportunity to live in a small community with a cultural focus, allowing them to feel at home in an academic and urban environment, while at the same time supporting their academic efforts and celebrating their successes.

Built in partnership with the Arctic Slope Regional Corporation, the Eileen Panigeo MacLean House was named after the late Eileen Panigeo MacLean, an Alaska State Representative, North Slope borough resident and UAF alumnae who was strongly involved in Alaska Native rights.

Thank you!

Terrell is from Deering, Alaska and is a Junior in the Rural Development program here at UAF.

This summer, he interned through First Alaskans with ASRC, spending most of his time in Point Hope.

“I learned a lot about customs and traditions of Iñupiaq culture through my travels to Point Hope.”

Terrell said his favorite part of Eileen’s House is that it’s more comfortable than most places, and that he feels less constrained here than he did at home.
