Student Guide to Academic Planning: Expectations

What is academic planner? An interactive tool students and advisors use to plan classes for current and upcoming terms. DegreeWorks is the official degree audit tool, please refer to your DegreeWorks planner audit each semester.

Expectations:

All incoming first-year students will create a plan in Academic Planner that they refer to throughout their academic journey, ensuring they stay on course to graduate. The plan can be revised in collaboration with the advisor based upon but not limited to the following:

- Students who start in the 2022-2023 catalog and later are encouraged to utilize the templates and academic planning tool to map out their academic career courses for each upcoming term.

- Students are encouraged to review the academic plan and update as needed. Updates may include course withdrawal, change of major, change of minor, change in course plans for the upcoming semester, transfer coursework or other reasons.

- Students should work closely through email or appointments with their academic advisor when updating their academic plan to ensure the courses planned to align with degree and program requirements.

- Transfer students are encouraged to work closely with their academic advisors to manually mark off courses that were met based on DegreeWorks-approved transfer courses.

- DegreeWorks is the degree audit system referenced at least once a semester.

- Once the scheduler and registration features are available, students are encouraged to utilize these tools to register for concurrent semesters.

Take Enough Credits to Stay on Track: Depending on your program, Bachelor Degree-seeking students plan to take at least 15 credits per term to graduate in a four-year timeframe.
