

RAHI 2001

In the search for knowledge
we must first come to know ourselves.

"Big Jim" Kowalsky Director

Big Jim received his Bachelor's/Masters degree in music from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He taught music in the public school for eight years, and at the college level for six years. He was an environmentalist for 7 years. He is a professional trumpet player and has worked for the Tanana Chiefs Conference for 6 years. After RAHI he plans to go on a bicycle tour from Wisconsin to Fairbanks, which is about 3,700 miles. He is married and has three children. He likes music, reading and bicycling. His message to the students is "that it is a really rewarding experience to see you come to RAHI and to watch you make your best efforts, they were your best, RIGHT? Take time to think about your future, make a plan, and follow your plan, to stick to it. Amend it as needed, but have a plan. Good luck to you. Stay in touch with RAHI and ask us for help with educational plans."

Dorm Staff RAHI 2001

Sean Kennedy, Esquire
Tutor/Counselor
Lactose Intolerant leader

Sean earned a BA in History and has experience working at Taco Bell and poetry festival camp. His future plans include to become a RAHI student. After RAHI this summer he plans on driving a truck and trying to understand what senior Guthridge meant. According to him, his family status is yes. Sean likes aggressive street dancing and getting letters from RAHI students. He has five messages to the students, 1) if it's good enough for Isaac it's good for you, 2) Do as Isaac says not as he does, 3)believe half of what Dare says and none of what you see, 4) Not a whit,we defy augury and 5) go to Ireland, Spain, etc. . . .

Kim Ivie
Tutor/Counselor
Chinook's leader

Kim is in her 2nd year as a T/C and is an alumn of the program. She graduated in December with a BA in Alaska Native Studies and a B.Ed in Elementary Education. She has been able to work in the Fairbanks Northstar Borough School District as a Reading Assistant in a first grade classroom. She hopes to get her own classroom very soon, so please tell her of job openings in the teaching field. She doesn't plan on taking a break after RAHI, and will be working somewhere in Fairbanks. Kim likes to bead, read and do nothing at all. Her message to the students is to keep your chin up and not to let anyone stop you from reaching your dreams. Stick to your dreams and follow your heart, if you work hard and follow these two things you will be fine. Go CHINOOK's!!!!!!

Autographs:

Dorm Staff RAHI 2001

My name is Howard Darling and I'm a student at Syracuse University. My hobbies are playing basketball whenever I get the chance, playing guitar and traveling. On my next big trip I want to go to the Great Wall of China. That will be a great trip. I just have a year left at Syracuse, then I'll receive my degrees in Information Technologies and in Spanish. After that I plan to go to a "post-undergrad" school somewhere on the west coast preferably San Diego or somewhere in the LA area.

My goal for five years would be to be totally done with my full time education and to have a job in the field of "whatever floats my boat". One thing for sure is that I want to live in a major metropolis area, someplace like New York, LA, Chicago, New Orleans or any other city with a lot to do and a lot of people.

In ten years I would like to be half way to retirement and maybe have some sort of relationship, but as long as it works around me having a brand spankin' new Corvette or even a Dodge Viper if money treats me well. By then I hope to move back to a more rural area of maybe about a half a million people or less. I figure that would be the best way to open up my car.

Oh and advice for the RAHI students, it's just a beginning, if you work as hard in college, it just may be easier than you thought. Oh and go to every class and take good notes, usually you can get away without doing the reading for homework.
