How will the two course levels differ from each other? How will each be taught at the appropriate level?

* Use only one Format 1 form for the stacked course (not one for each level of the course!) and attach syllabi. Stacked course applications are reviewed by the (Undergraduate) Curriculum Review Committee and by the Graduate Academic and Advising Committee. Creating two different syllabi (undergraduate and graduate versions) will help emphasize the different qualities of what are supposed to be two different courses. The committees will determine: 1) whether the two versions are sufficiently different (i.e. is there undergraduate and graduate level content being offered); 2) are undergraduates being overtaxed?; 3) are graduate students being undertaxed? In this context, the committees are looking out for the interests of the students taking the course. Typically, if either committee has qualms, they both do. 10. COMPLETE CATALOG DESCRIPTION including dept., number, title, credits, credit distribution, cross-listings and/or stacking (50 words or less if possible):

Example of a complete description:

FISH F487 W, O Fisheries Management
3 Credits Offered Spring
Theory and practice of fisheries management, with an emphasis on strategies utilized for the management of freshwater and marine fisheries. Prerequisites: COMM F131X or COMM F141X; ENGL F111X; ENGL F211X or ENGL F213X; ENGL F414; FISH F425; or permission of instructor. Cross-listed with NRM F487. (3+0)

RD F676 Federal Indian Law in Alaska: Tribal Self-Governance - Business, Public Safety, Protection of Family, Property, and Resources
3 Credits

Offered as demand warrants

Examination of the history of federal Indian law and its implementation in Alaska. Key laws including the Indian Reorganization Act (IRA), Public Law 83-280, Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA), Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (ISDEAA), Indian Civil Rights Act (ICRA) and the Tribal Law and Order Act (TLOA), are examined in terms of how they have altered the political landscape in Alaska. Indian legislation is explored to determine how Native communities exercise self-governance in Alaska. Students consider the development of tribal judicial capacity and pressing issues such as public safety for Native communities in Alaska as well as tribal participation in business and contractual agreements.

Prerequisites: graduate standing or permission of the instructor.

Lecture + Lab + Other: 3 + 0 + 0

11. COURSE CLASSIFICATIONS: Undergraduate courses only. Consult with CLA Curriculum Council to apply S or H classification appropriately; otherwise leave fields blank.

Restrictions on Enrollment (if any)

14. Prerequisites

Graduate standing or permission of the instructor

These will be required before the student is allowed to enroll in the course.

15. Special Restrictions, Conditions

N/A

16. Proposed Course Fees

$N/A

Has a memo been submitted through your dean to the Provost for fee approval? Yes/No

17. Previous History

Has the course been offered as special topics or trial course previously?

Yes/No

If yes, give semester, year, course #, etc.: A similar course was offered as an RD 693 Federal Indian Law course in fall of 2014 and fall of 2015. After trying this method it was decided two courses were needed. This course is one of those two.

18. Estimated Impact

What impact, if any, will this have on budget, facilities/space, faculty, etc.

There will be minimal impact on any of the above. The department has the resources to offer the course.

19. Library Collections

Have you contacted the library collection development officer (kljensen@alaska.edu, 474-6695) with regard to the adequacy of library/media collections, equipment, and services available for the proposed course? If so, give date of contact and resolution. If not, explain why not.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>N/A</th>
<th>X</th>
<th>Yes</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

The library collection is already sufficient and most of the materials needed for the course will be provided on Blackboard. The library notifies us each time they add materials pertinent to Native studies so further contact is not needed.
20. IMPACTS ON PROGRAMS/DEPTS
What programs/departments will be affected by this proposed action?
Include information on the Programs/Departments contacted (e.g., email, memo)

We do not anticipate any measurable impact on other programs or departments.

21. POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACTS
Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.

We do not anticipate any negative impacts on any of the above. There may be a positive impact for students in other graduate programs who will be able to take this course as an elective. The last time we offered the course on trial three enrolled students were from other graduate programs.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED
The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

Federal Indian law is an extremely important subject for Rural Development (RD) students because it governs so much of what happens in Alaska Native communities. Working with both tribes and ANCSA corporations requires at the very least a basic understanding of this field of law and how it is applied. Lack of competency in this area can result in serious misunderstandings when working with Native communities. As tribes in Alaska work to expand their self-governance capacity the need for RD majors to have better knowledge of the law is also increasing; RD majors need this coursework to support the work that many of them will do throughout the State.

There are no graduate level courses at UAF that cover this subject and we have had numerous requests from students for coursework. While graduate students can of course take our “Alaska Native Studies F425 Federal Indian Law and Alaska Natives”, that course does not provide for the level of study we expect to offer graduate students. When graduate students have enrolled into that course it has been difficult to simultaneously meet both their needs and those of undergraduates especially those who have junior standing. By offering coursework at the graduate level we can better serve graduate students both in our own program and across campus.

There is currently very little graduate level coursework that focuses on Federal Indian law in Alaska at other universities, and none that we know of offered by distance. By including this distance course (and the companion RD 675 which is being submitted under separate cover) we hope to expand our enrollment opportunities, and will market the course with this goal in mind.

The Faculty Senate curriculum committees will review the syllabus to ensure that each of the items listed below are included. If items are missing or unclear, the proposed course (or changes to it) may be denied.

SYLLABUS CHECKLIST FOR ALL UAF COURSES
During the first week of class, instructors will distribute a course syllabus. Although modifications may be made throughout the semester, this document will contain the following information (as applicable to the discipline):

1. Course information:
   - Title, □ number, □ credits, □ prerequisites, □ location, □ meeting time
   (make sure that contact hours are in line with credits).

2. Instructor (and if applicable, Teaching Assistant) information:
   - □ Name, □ office location, □ office hours, □ telephone, □ email address.

3. Course readings/materials:
   - □ Course textbook title, □ author, □ edition/publisher.
   - □ Supplementary readings (indicate whether □ required or □ recommended) and □ any supplies required.

4. Course description:
   - □ Content of the course and how it fits into the broader curriculum;
   - □ Expected proficiencies required to undertake the course, if applicable.
   - □ Inclusion of catalog description is strongly recommended, and
   - □ Description in syllabus must be consistent with catalog course description.

5. □ Course Goals (general), and (see #6)

6. □ Student Learning Outcomes (more specific)

7. Instructional methods:
   - □ Describe the teaching techniques (eg: lecture, case study, small group discussion, private instruction, studio instruction, values clarification, games, journal writing, use of Blackboard, audio/video conferencing, etc.).

8. Course calendar:
   - □ A schedule of class topics and assignments must be included. Be specific so that it is clear that the instructor has thought this through and will not be making it up on the fly (e.g. it is not adequate to say “lab”. Instead, give each lab a title that describes its content). You may call the outline Tentative or Work in Progress to allow for modifications during the semester.

9. Course policies:
   - □ Specify course rules, including your policies on attendance, tardiness, class participation, make-up exams, and plagiarism/academic integrity.

10. Evaluation:
   - □ Specify how students will be evaluated, □ what factors will be included, □ their relative value, and □ how they will be tabulated into grades (on a curve, absolute scores, etc.) □ Publicize UAF regulations with regard to the grades of "C" and below as applicable to this course. (Not required in the syllabus, but is a convenient way to publicize this.) Link to PDF summary of grading policy for "C":

11. Support Services:
   - □ Describe the student support services such as tutoring (local and/or regional) appropriate for the course.

12. Disabilities Services: Note that the phone# and location have been updated. http://www.uaf.edu/disability/ The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and ensures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials.
   - □ State that you will work with the Office of Disabilities Services (208 WHITAKER BLDG, 474-5655) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.
