Change happens, whether it is you who puts it in motion or not.

This year marks my 20th year with Summer Sessions, and our unit certainly looks different than it did in 2003 when we only offered credit-bearing courses.

Today, we do not administer credit courses but instead provide the Fairbanks campus with an outreach arm that strives to welcome the community year-round.

This year, Summer Sessions & Lifelong Learning (SSLL) will provide three different in-person summer lecture series for a total of 28 lectures which will be carried statewide. SSLL will also present the annual Legacy Lecture, the Really Free Market, 12 Music in the Garden summer concerts, and the Here Comes the Sun winter concert. Additionally, we will provide non-credit courses for adults year-round; the SMART Academy (Science Math Art Recreation Technology), which, during the academic year, provides statewide virtual courses and local in-person enrichment classes for the home school audience; an international and domestic travel program for professionals and retired professionals; summer day camps for Fairbanks children (this year there will be 90!); and a scholarship program that eliminates financial barriers to our children’s programming. We also partner with many community institutions to help create and sustain new educational opportunities.

Change brings talented people into our organization, and their skill sets have enhanced existing programs. We are fortunate to have recently welcomed new talent to our team while long-time staff continues to weave their magic. At the same time, change has meant saying a sad goodbye to those whom the UAF community has lost, most recently, the amazing Rob Duke. Rob made significant contributions of time and talent to our program. We will always remember his humor, dedication, and many kindnesses.

Looking back over the past two decades at SSLL, each year was different from the one before. Some things have endured, while others, although good, did not survive. It will be interesting to see what the next decade will bring. We look forward to sharing it with you!

SPECIAL INTEREST COURSES

For years, Summer Sessions & Lifelong Learning has provided summer courses to encourage the Fairbanks community to become part of the fabric of the University of Alaska Fairbanks campus. Investigate the variety of creative courses being offered during these warm summer months.

Adult Bug Camp
INSTRUCTOR: Derek Sikes
MEETS: 7/14/2023 - 7/16/2023
Friday 6-8pm, Saturday and Sunday, 1-6:15pm
Murie 306

Learn collection and processing methods needed to build an insect collection. Skills necessary to identify most groups to Order will be taught. Students will create a collection which will be broken into three groups: specimens the student can take home, specimens for the University of Alaska Museum Insect Collection, and specimens for the Teaching Collection.

COST: $135

Bicycle Maintenance and Repair
INSTRUCTOR: Simon Rakower
MEETS: 5/2/2023 - 5/30/2023
Tuesday, 6-9pm
U Park 158

Comprehensive and practical, hands-on bicycle maintenance and repair focusing on road and mountain bikes. Emphasis on drive chain, shifting, brakes, wheels (straightening), tires, tubes (flats), steering systems, cable replacement and lubrication. Review geometry and physics of the bicycle, the world's most efficient means of transportation. Students should bring a bicycle to class to work on.

COST: $140

Advanced Bike Hacking
INSTRUCTOR: Simon Rakower
MEETS: 5/4/2023 - 6/1/2023
Thursday, 6-9pm
U Park 158

Students will work on bicycle hacking projects of their choosing using the information and techniques covered in the Bicycle Maintenance and Repair course. Familiarity with the subjects covered in the intro class is assumed. However, having taken the intro class is recommended but not required. Students are required to meet with the instructor in April to map out the hack(s) to be completed during this advanced course. Students should bring a bicycle to class to work on.

COST: $140

Bookmaking: The Expanding Gallery Box
INSTRUCTOR: Margo Klass
MEETS: 6/2/2023 - 6/4/2023
Friday, 6-8:30pm, Saturday and Sunday, 10am-4pm
Murie 306

In this workshop, participants will construct a 3-dimensional box structure. They will learn how to measure and cut all the parts, use book cloth to hinge together the four sets of triple-folded panels around the central recessed compartment, and embed a magnetic closure in the cover. Participants will personalize their models by providing an object to be featured in the central well and papers to mount on the surrounding panels. If time permits, we will explore variations of the structure by creating mock-ups of our own design.

Botanical Art: Fairbanks Peonies

INSTRUCTOR: Karen Stomberg
MEETS: 7/7/2023 - 7/9/2023
Friday 6-8pm, Saturday and Sunday, 10am-4pm
Murie 306

Peony blooms are the spectacular high-summer divas in the Georgeson Botanical Garden. We’ll be touring the peony beds on the first evening of class, where you will choose your bloom to study and draw in the classroom. After some inspiration from traditional and contemporary botanical art, we will work with a variety of drawing tools, colored pencils, and watercolors. We will discuss composition, botany, and practice techniques to help you continue working in your personal style on fine watercolor paper. Some experience is preferred for attendance in this class.

COST: $175

Cyanotypes

INSTRUCTOR: Jason Lazarus
MEETS: 5/6/2023 - 5/7/2023
Saturday and Sunday, 9am-1pm
Bunnell 106

Learn how to make your own photo-sensitive paper that can be exposed using just the sun! Print large-scale “digital negatives” of any image, digital or film-based, and print blue-toned images on watercolor paper while enjoying a sunny day. Easy to learn and replicate at home.

COST: $130

Field/ Landscape Photography

INSTRUCTOR: JR Ancheta
MEETS: 7/15/2023
Saturday, 10am-4pm
Georgeson Botanical Garden

Explore Creamers Field and the Georgeson Botanical Gardens and learn how to use your digital camera. No photo skills are necessary and learn on the spot. Class meets at the Georgeson Botanical Garden.

COST: $50

Fly Fishing Weekend

INSTRUCTOR: Shann Jones
Saturday and Sunday, 8:30am-4:30pm
Chapman 104

Introduction to the art and science of flyfishing, providing necessary knowledge to make educated fly tackle selections. Students will learn how to use a fly rod to cast a fishing fly with pinpoint accuracy, tie fishing knots and construct their own leaders, select fishing flies, and, most importantly, learn where fish live and how best to catch (and release) them. Scientific information on Alaskan freshwater fish, habitat, entomology, and stream ecology will be covered in the context of practical fishing advice. Non-residents can obtain a three-day license at local vendors. Participants must provide their own boots and field clothing. A limited number of fly rods, reels and other tackle will be available for workshop participants’ use. Such arrangements must be made directly with the instructor prior to the start of the workshop.

COST: $135
Intro to Geocaching
INSTRUCTOR: Janet Taylor
Saturday and Sunday, 12-4pm
Gruening 304

Come join in the fun of geocaching, the world’s largest treasure hunt. This class will cover the basics for beginners. Download a geocaching app on your smartphone before the start of the course and be prepared for outdoor activity.

COST: $130

Intro to Mushroom Identification
INSTRUCTOR: Christin Swearingen
MEETS: 8/18/2023 - 8/20/2023
Friday, 6-8pm, Saturday, 10am-4pm, and Sunday, 11am-3pm, Murie 203

In this weekend intensive course, you will learn how to identify some of the common species of mushrooms in Interior Alaska. We will spend time in the field collecting mushrooms, learning how to use dichotomous keys, making spore prints, and learning which features to hone into when identifying mushrooms. Finding choice edible species is not guaranteed, but you will leave the class knowing how to identify at least four edible species.

COST: $100

Intro to Weaving: Two Scarves in Four Weeks
INSTRUCTOR: Fairbanks Weavers and Spinners Guild
MEETS: 4/16/2023 - 5/7/2023
Sunday, 10am-2pm
Tanana Valley Fairgrounds, Davis Hall

This course is an introduction to weaving. Looms are pre-warped and ready to weave. You will weave two scarves, one plain, and the other twill, plus learn hem stitching and wet finishing techniques. No prerequisites or prior experience are required. This course is offered in cooperation with the Fairbanks Weavers and Spinners Guild.

COST: $275

Let’s Play Golf
INSTRUCTOR: James Contreras
MEETS: 6/14/2023 - 7/26/2023
Wednesday, 12:30-2pm
Fairbanks Golf Course

Do you want to learn how to play golf? How about improving your swing? PGA professional J.C. Contreras will work with you to achieve your goals.

COST: $225

Lumen Printing
INSTRUCTOR: Jason Lazarus
MEETS: 5/6/2023 - 5/7/2023
Saturday and Sunday, 2-6pm
Bunnell 106

This course instructs students in the process of creating cameraless photographic prints with the power of the sun using expired and unused photo paper. Requiring no prior darkroom experience, students will learn how to make colorful impressions of botanical items with little more than some paper, plants and a single photo chemical.

COST: $140

Modern Embroidery: Using Diverse Canvases
INSTRUCTOR: Lyndsi Harris
MEETS: 5/9/2023 - 5/18/2023
Tuesday and Thursday, 6-8:30pm
Murie 306

Take a step away from traditional fabric embroidery in this introduction to modern embroidery. Students will begin by learning a variety of basic embroidery stitches that will be used later in the class to create a richly textured finished piece. We will start our work on paper and progress to more unusual canvases like birch tree bark. While watercolor painting will not be the main focus of this course, students will be encouraged to experiment with adding paint to their pieces to enrich the depth and texture.

MEETS: 6/9/2023 - 6/10/2023
Friday, 6-8pm, Saturday, 10am-4pm
Murie 306

This class will explore the parallels between art and science and the many ways we can observe and respond to our surroundings. Participants will practice observation through various sketching techniques using pencils, pens, and watercolor paint, creating one or more developed pieces. Weather pending, this class will mostly occur outside.
COST: $150
Youth Mental Health First Aid

INSTRUCTOR: Justine Schmidt
MEETS: 5/8/2023 - 5/15/2023
      Monday and Wednesday, 6-8:30pm
      Gruening 307

Youth Mental Health First Aid is designed to teach parents, family members, caregivers, teachers, school staff, peers, neighbors, health and human services workers, and other caring citizens how to help an adolescent (age 12-18) who is experiencing a mental health or addictions challenge or is in crisis. Youth Mental Health First Aid is primarily designed for adults who regularly interact with young people. The course introduces common mental health challenges for youth, reviews typical adolescent development, and teaches a 5-step action plan for how to help young people in both crisis and non-crisis situations. Topics covered include anxiety, depression, substance use, disorders in which psychosis may occur, disruptive behavior disorders (including AD/HD), and eating disorders.

and responsibly harvesting medicinal plants to make teas, salves, and preserves. Students will be able to take all their creations home to enjoy with their families. This is a full-day program. Please come prepared with a small snack, a full lunch, and the outdoor gear necessary for daily walks around the trails on campus.

GRADES 6-8: June 26-30, Murie 107, 9am-4pm

Wood and Bark Carving Camp
Jesse Hensel
Fee: $210

Students will learn how to use chisels, carving knives, and handsaws. Students will have the opportunity to carve spoons, small faces, and small sculptures.

GRADES 4-6: June 19-23, ART 301- Native Arts Studio, 1-4pm

Making it Up as You Go
Rachel Blackwell
Fee: $195

This camp is all about imagination and a desire to play. The class will use improvisational exercises to teach students the importance of listening, saying yes, being present, and taking risks. Students will learn the art of creating in a collaborative and judgment-free environment. Students develop the skills to be fearless, spontaneous, vulnerable, and authentic in every performance on and off the stage. At the end of camp, we will hold a small showcase where families can watch their children perform. Audience members will guide the cast in making up spontaneous stories and playing fun theater games to show what they have learned.

GRADES 6-8: June 5-9, U Park 133 (gym), 9am-12pm
GRADES 3-5: June 5-9, U Park 133 (gym), 1-4pm
GRADES 3-5: June 26-30, U Park 133 (gym), 9am-12pm
GRADES 6-8: June 26-30, U Park 133 (gym), 1-4pm

Money Camp
Delores Siah
Fee: $195

Managing money is often difficult for adults, while children often think money comes out of the walls when you put a plastic card in a slot. This camp will dispel this myth and provide the basic knowledge for campers to start learning the economic concepts of earning, spending, saving, and money management.

GRADES 4-6: July 24-28, Gruening 301, 1-4pm

Photography Camp
JR Ancheta
Fee: $195

Learn how a camera functions, concepts of composition, and post-processing techniques. Students must provide their own camera.

GRADES 4-6: June 26-30, RASM 301, 9am-12pm

Rifle Camp
Will Anti
Fee: $195

Get hands-on experience and learn about basic rifle safety and marksmanship from UAF’s Rifle Coach.

GRADES 7-9: June 19-23, Patty Center Rifle Range, 9am-12pm
GRADES 7-9: June 19-23, Patty Center Rifle Range, 1-4pm

Rock Climbing Camp
Christian Mogensen
Fee: $195

Join us for an exciting week of rock climbing! Campers will be introduced to basic rock climbing skills and techniques through top-rope climbing and bouldering indoors. Campers will also learn important life skills including communication, teamwork, problem-solving, trust, and confidence through climbing. We aim to grow a lifelong appreciation of climbing in our participants.

GRADES 2-3: July 17-21, Rock Wall/ SRC, 9am-12pm
GRADES 4-6: July 24-28, Rock Wall/ SRC, 9am-12pm

Sculpture at the Museum

Jessie Hedden
Fee: $200

Build, assemble, attach, and decorate! In this camp, we will use shapes and various tactile and colorful materials to make sculptures. Students will be inspired by daily tours of the UA Museum’s collection and grounds. Tell a story, create an animal, or just have fun with shapes! Each activity will provide campers with a hands-on experience and great works of 3-D art to take home.

GRADES 2-3: July 10-14, UA Museum of the North 148, 1-4pm

STEAM Engine Camps

at the UAF Makerspace with the UAF College of Engineering and Mines

Attend one week or all three! Dedicated STEAMEngine scholarships are available.

STEAMEngine: Energy and Programming [FULL DAY!]
Tate Barhaug
Fee: $400

Begin by exploring key energy concepts, including kinetic, potential, electrical, and thermal energy. Once you have some theory down, you will learn how energy pops up in your everyday life by building circuits and analyzing energy sources from the world around you.

GRADES 10-12: July 24-28, DUCK 344, 9am-4pm
GRADES 7-9: July 31-August 4, DUCK 342, 9am-4pm

STEAMEngine: Manufacturing Technology [FULL DAY!]
Tate Barhaug
Fee: $400

Design problems are often open-ended, requiring a broad skill set from engineers. Learn to use tools such as 3D printers and laser cutters to meet the goals of design challenges and make cool things. Once you have mastered the tools, learn how they can enable manufacturing production at scale.

GRADES 7-9: July 24-28, DUCK 342, 9am-4pm
GRADES 10-12: July 31-August 4, DUCK 344, 9am-4pm

STEAMEngine: T3 Basics [FULL DAY!]
Tate Barhaug
Fee: $400

Learn the basics of design thinking and a growth mindset through a multitude of design challenges. Throughout this STEAMEngine, you will learn the basics of operating 3D printers and laser cutters and gain basic coding skills. Each new technology will have a design challenge that will be both immersive and fun.

GRADES 7-9: July 17-21, DUCK 342, 9am-4pm
GRADES 10-12: July 17-21, DUCK 344, 9am-4pm

Volleyball Camp Beginner
with Nanook Volleyball
Fee: $225

This Beginner Camp is designed for those just starting to play volleyball. Typically campers will have 0-1 year of experience. These campers may not be able to overhand serve and are still learning an approach and how to attack the ball. Campers are normally in the 4th - 6th grades, but experience more than age should determine participation.

GRADES 4-6: July 24-26, Patty Center, 8-11am

Volleyball Camp Intermediate with Nanook Volleyball
Fee: $280

This Intermediate Camp is designed for individuals with some volleyball experience. Typically campers will have 1-3 years of experience. These campers should be able to overhand serve and be experimenting with a jump float or jump serve. Campers may still be learning an approach and how to attack the ball but should be comfortable making an attempt. Campers are normally in the 7th - 9th grades, but experience more than age should determine participation.

GRADES 7-9: July 24-26, Patty Center, 1-5pm

Volleyball Camp Advanced FULL DAY!
with Nanook Volleyball
Fee: $325

This Advanced Camp is designed for individuals with a good foundation of volleyball skills. Typically campers have 3+ years of experience. These campers can overhand serve with ease and may jump float or jump serve but are at least experimenting with one. Campers should be comfortable attacking the ball and looking for ways to make improvements. Campers are normally in the 9th - 12th grades, but experience more than age should determine participation.

An Evening with
MARY EHRLANDER

Monday, June 5, 2023 at 7pm
BP Design Theater
(401 Usibelli Engineering Building)
Lecture will be livestreamed.
Reception to follow.

Mary F. Ehrlander was raised in Fairbanks and graduated from Lathrop High School. She completed a B.A. in Political Science and an M.A. in Northern Studies at the University of Alaska Fairbanks. Mary continued her education at the University of Virginia, earning a second master’s degree and a Ph.D. in Government. In 2001 she was hired as assistant director of Northern Studies and assistant professor of History at UAF. She retired in 2020 and is Professor Emeritus of History and Arctic & Northern Studies at UAF. Mary is the author of numerous publications, including the books Walter Harper, Alaska Native Son, and Equal Educational Opportunity: Brown’s Elusive Mandate. She, along with Hild Peters, currently have a book in press: Hospital and Haven: The Life and Work of Grafton and Clara Burke in Northern Alaska (University of Nebraska Press, Fall 2023). She received the Emil Usibelli Distinguished Teaching Award (2016) and the Alaskana Award for her book Walter Harper: Alaska Native Son (2017).
Barbara Lando was born in New Jersey and earned a Ph.D. in Mathematics at Rutgers University. She came to Alaska in 1969 when she and her husband both accepted teaching positions at UAF. Barbara not only taught mathematics but was instrumental in starting the computer science program at UAF. She retired in 1990 as a UAF Professor of Mathematics and Computer Science, Emeritus. After retirement, she became the Alaska State Director for Elderhostel and became interested in promoting a lifelong learning program in Fairbanks. Barbara had the vision and was the driving force behind UAF’s now-established Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLl). Recently, she helped establish Aging at Home Fairbanks, a membership organization offering support for older adults to live independently and engaged in their community.

Bev Byington was born and raised in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and graduated from Augustana College. She was a teacher/counselor in Minnesota before coming to Fairbanks in 1970. She met her first Alaskan friends, Liz and Bill Berry, when she volunteered at Techne Art and Craft Coop. She volunteered at Crisis Line and was a school counselor at Lathrop. Bev taught art, psychology, and sociology at West Valley and received a sabbatical to research study skills and motivation. She also worked at Ryan, Tanana, and Howard Luke Academy. She created a school focus program on being a successful student. Bev has volunteered at the Farmer’s Market, Georgeson Botanical Garden, and the Fairbanks Drama Association. Over the years, she has shared her artistic skills with the community and, in 2022, helped paint street murals in downtown Fairbanks as part of a grant-funded initiative overseen by the Fairbanks Area Surface Transportation (FAST) Planning.

Theresa Reed is a retired music teacher, performer, theatrical costumer, and strong advocate for the arts. She and her late husband, Bill, helped found the Fairbanks Light Opera Theatre. She served on their board of directors at various times and was the stage director for many productions. Currently, she helps organize the very large FLOT costume collection, which is available for loan. Theresa was one of the original founders of Opera Fairbanks and served as the costume designer for most of their productions. She was on the Fairbanks Summer Arts Festival board for 22 years. In 2006 she was named one of the Farthest North Girl Scout Council’s “Women of Distinction” and has received the Interior Mayors’ Award for the Arts Lifetime Achievement Award twice. Directing the choir at Christ Lutheran Church, a weekly singalong at the Pioneer Home, and being a fill-in driver for Meals on Wheels helps fill her days.

James Barker’s photography has been exhibited throughout Alaska and beyond. Jim was born in Pullman, Washington, in 1936 and studied photography at the Art Center School of Design in Los Angeles. As a documentary and ethnographic photographer, he attended the 1965 march in Selma, Alabama. However, Jim is best known for his work in... southwest Alaska, where he moved in 1974 and lived in Bethel with his wife, Robin, and their son, Eric. There, he extensively documented the people in the region. He moved to Fairbanks in 1987 and taught for a year at UAF. Jim has photographed for Doyon, Tanana Chiefs, and Denakkanaaga. He also spent two seasons in Antarctica. Jim is the author of Always Getting Ready/Utterralalta: Yup'ik Eskimo Subsistence in Southwest Alaska (University of Washington Press, 1993), and he collaborated to produce Yupiit Yuraryarait: Yup'ik Ways of Dancing (University of Alaska Press) and Bethel: The First Hundred Years (City of Bethel, 1985). He was the recipient of The Rasmuson Foundation’s 2022 Distinguished Artist Award; the first photographer to receive the award.

7/17 Terry Reichardt

Terry Reichardt arrived in Fairbanks in 1972 when her husband, Paul, accepted a faculty position at UAF. Their first child was born a few months after their arrival. In addition to being a mom of three, homeschooling, and small-scale farming, Terry still found time to volunteer. She volunteered with the Northern Alaska Environmental Center (NAEC) and was the board president and Temporary Acting Director. She was a founding board member of the Alaska Conservation Foundation. After her children started attending Pearl Creek Elementary School, Terry started Love INC., which she ran for 16 years. She volunteered at the Literacy Council and developed an adult reading program at First Presbyterian Church. She has shared her passion for vegetable gardening by teaching classes through the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at UAF and the First Presbyterian Church. She currently enjoys co-leading a small group Bible study with Paul and occasionally helps him with the weekly meal program he runs at First Presbyterian Church for anyone wanting fellowship or food.

7/24 Wendell Shiffler

Wendell Shiffler is a retired high school science teacher who (with his wife Judy) moved to Fairbanks in 1968 for what they thought was a two-year commitment. 55 years later, they still call Fairbanks home. In 1981 he was named the Alaska Biology Teacher of the Year. Wendy retired from teaching full-time in 1990. He was an adjunct instructor in the PE Department at UAF for 10 years. In 1970, Wendy started volunteering with the Alaska Arctic Winter Games and was involved in every volunteer role, from making beds in the athlete village to Chef de Mission for Team Alaska in 1992. He continued his involvement with the Arctic Winter Games by serving on the AWG International Committee for 20 years as Secretary and retired from the AWG International Committee as Vice President in 2014. Wendy developed the Outdoor Experience Program through the FNSBSD. He volunteered for the ARCO Jesse Owens Games, the Fairbanks Food Bank, FNSB Trails Advisory Committee and is a former Presbyterian Hospitality House board member.

7/31 Ron Inouye

Ron Inouye is a retired University of Alaska Rasmuson Library database editor. An Alaska and Arctic history enthusiast with broad interests, he co-authored Alaska’s Japanese Pioneers and was the 2013 Contributions to Literacy in Alaska Award recipient. He is known as an educator, historian, activist, author, and musician and is a board member of the Tanana-Yukon Historical Society, College Rotary Club, Friends of the UA Museum of the North, and Golden Heart Community Foundation.

8/7 Tom Buntzen

Tom Bundtzen is a Research Geologist and avid mining historian based in Fairbanks, Alaska. He graduated with both BS and MS degrees in Geology from the University of Alaska Fairbanks. After retiring as Senior Economic Geologist for the Alaska Division of Geological and Geophysical Survey (ADGGS), Tom formed Pacific Rim Geological Consulting, Inc. Tom and his staff have worked throughout Alaska, the Yukon, and the Russian Far East on a diverse group of geological projects. Tom has been active in the Alaska Miners Association, and in 1997, Tom and others formed the Alaska Mining Hall of Fame Foundation to honor Alaska’s mining pioneers.

Small as the country by the North Sea may be, it has a dazzling number of historical, cultural and engineering sights. From the Dutch masters of painting to sober medieval and ornate renaissance architecture. Explore historic monuments, modern engineering, and, to pique your gustatory senses, a tremendous variety of cheeses and chocolate.

These are just a few of the many exciting and interesting things the country has to offer. Come with us and see the very best of them, enhanced by fascinating lectures and guided tours executed by local experts. Bikes will be on board and will be available for organized tours.

You will discover the Netherlands in an unusual way via its most typical element: the water. Rivers, canals, and lakes abound, and you will sail many of them on the lovely Fiep. This comfortable barge will be both your main mode of transportation and your group’s hotel for the entire trip. The Grand Tulip tour gives you a wonderful insight into the heart and soul of The Netherlands.

PROGRAM FEE $4,800 based on double occupancy

Program fee includes 24/7 tour guide, lodging, lectures, entrance fees, three meals a day, in-country transportation, and gratuities. All travelers must arrange their own transportation to and from the Netherlands.
Your exploration of the Nordic way of life begins in the capital of Finland, which is celebrated as the happiest country on earth. Known for its functional design, excellent food, and numerous saunas, Helsinki is the perfect starting point for gaining insight into Finnish culture. Continue then to Lapland, the region above the Arctic Circle, rich in indigenous Sami culture.

Known to the locals as the time of ‘ruska’, autumn in northern Finland is an exciting time of change. This phenomenon starts when the days get shorter and the weather gets colder. The birch turns a gentle shade of yellow, aspen turns bright gold, and the leaves of blueberry and lingonberry shrubs turn deep red. Add the magic of the Northern Lights at night, and you have an unforgettable autumn experience above the Arctic Circle.

From Finland, we continue along the Norwegian Coast on board a Havila ship. Experience the natural, unspoiled beauty of Norway’s coastline. These postal ships call at over 30 ports as part of their support to the isolated Norwegian communities, and you can be part of their voyage.

Finally, in Bergen, get to know the Capital of the Fjords before making your way amidst the fjords, and experience the Flåm Railway, one of the most incredible train journeys in the world, before ending your Nordic Adventure in Oslo.

PROGRAM FEE $8,900 based on double occupancy. Single supplement $2,200.

Program fee includes 24/7 tour guide, lodging, lectures, entrance fees, three meals a day, transportation, and gratuities. All travelers must arrange their own transportation to Finland (start of tour) and from Norway (end of tour).
