PROGRAM IDENTIFICATION:

DEGREE PROGRAM	Bachelor of Emergency N	Management
Degree Level: (i.e., Cer	tificate, A.A., A.A.S., B.A., B.S., M.A., M.S., Ph.D.)	BEM

A. CHANGE IN DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: (Brief statement of program/degree changes and objectives)

The BEM degree program has been restructured to more narrowly focus on the needs of the field of emergency management and homeland security. To that end, we have clearly defined a major within the BEM degree "Emergency Management and Homeland Security". This will also allow us to recognize equivalent military credit for active military members and veterans entering the program with credits earned from prior military education and/or training. No additional courses or requirements have been added to this new structure.

B. CURRENT REQUIREMENTS AS IT APPEARS IN THE CATALOG:

B.E.M. Degree

Minimum Requirements for Degree: 120 – 121 credits

The Bachelor of Emergency Management degree program focuses on development of the skill sets required to lead and manage individuals and organizations in an increasingly more complex and integrated emergency management and homeland security environment. The program builds upon an individual's technical capabilities derived from education, training and experience in the fire, law enforcement, military or other related fields. This technical expertise is then combined with a curriculum of business administration and emergency management and homeland security instruction. This focus provides students with the operations management knowledge needed to lead and manage individuals, departments or agencies on a day-to-day basis while simultaneously preparing them to excel and lead during times of crisis at the local, regional, national or international levels. This degree is designed specifically to meet the needs of those who provide administrative oversight, supervisory control or leadership and management within the fields of fire, law, emergency medical services, security and other related fields at the local, state, federal and international levels. The degree also provides responders the opportunity to further their education, increase their competitive advantage for promotion and advance their operational understanding of the highly integrated emergency management and homeland security environment of today.

B.E.M. DEGREE (Homeland Security and Emergency Management)

Minimum Requirements for Degree: 120 -121 credits

In a post 9/11environment, the challenges faced by emergency management and homeland security professionals have reached unprecedented levels. As we experience an increase in the frequency, complexity and severity of man-made, natural and technological disasters, ever increasing demands have been placed on these professionals and the skill sets required to succeed in our current environment. Today, unlike ever before, the integration of federal, state and local resources, communication and collaboration has become the norm in order to meet the challenges faced in this new environment. Issues concerning terrorism, critical infrastructure protection/management, risk, business continuity, fire, hazardous materials, law enforcement, public health and safety are no longer domains unto themselves but part of the new fabric of this highly integrated and complex environment. Consequently, more is now required and expected of our traditional first responders and those charged with the leadership and management roles of these individuals and organizations.

The Bachelor of Emergency Management degree program focuses on the development of the skill sets required to lead and manage individuals /organizations in an increasingly more complex and integrated emergency management and homeland security environment. The program builds upon an individual's technical capabilities derived from education, training and experience in the fire, law enforcement, military or other related fields. This technical expertise is then combined with a curriculum of business administration and emergency management /homeland security instruction. This focus provides a student with the operations management knowledge to lead and manage individuals, departments or agencies on a day-to-day basis while simultaneously preparing them to excel and lead during times of crisis at the local, regional or national /international levels. This degree is built specifically to meet the needs of those who provide for the administrative oversight, supervisory control or leadership/management roles within the fields of fire, law, emergency medical services and security (to include other related fields) at the local, state, federal and international levels. The degree also provides those at the responder level the opportunity to further their education, increase their competitive advantage for promotion and advance their operational understanding of the highly integrated emergency management and homeland security environment of today.

D. ESTIMATED IMPACT

WHAT IMPACT, IF ANY, WILL THIS HAVE ON BUDGET, FACILITIES/SPACE, FACULTY, ETC.

None; Faculty members are already in place.

E. IMPACTS ON PROGRAMS/DEPTS:

What programs/departments will be affected by this proposed action? Include information on the Programs/Departments contacted (e.g., email, memo)

There is no impact on other departments or programs of restructuring the BEM degree. This change provides for the designation of a single major "Homeland Security and Emergency Management" within the BEM program. It does not change the format of the program, the credit hours required or other programs here at UAF.

F. IF MAJOR CHANGE - ASSESSMENT OF THE PROGRAM:

Description of the student learning outcomes assessment process.)

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED

The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize program/degree change applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. If you drop a course, is it because the material is covered elsewhere? Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed change and explain what has been done to ensure that the quality of the program is not compromised as a result.

The addition of a defined major for the Bachelor of Emergency Management program will allow us the flexibility to create additional majors in the future as demand warrants. We recognize there is a tie between the emergency management and homeland security fields. The latitude this structure provides, allows us to address a variety of audiences in the future as the profession changes.
