Stacked course applications are reviewed by the (Undergraduate) Curricular Review Committee and by the Graduate Academic and Advising Committee. Creating two different syllabi (undergraduate and graduate versions) will help emphasize the different qualities of what are supposed to be two different courses. The committees will determine: 1) whether the two versions are sufficiently different (i.e. is there undergraduate and graduate level content being offered), 2) are undergraduates being overtaxed?; 3) are graduate students being undertaxed? In this context, the committees are looking out for the interests of the students taking the course. Typically, if either committee has qualms, they both do. JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED

The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

This course is the first course/semester of a larger four semester program that will give students a comprehensive knowledge of this teaching tradition.

This course would grow recruitment for the Music Department and all UAF departments because it allows students that successfully complete the program to apply for jobs in the field. There are 13 schools that have this program currently and all of the programs claim that numbers of students dramatically rose when this program was offered. This program coincides with new efforts across the community for programs that benefit all students from all majors and disciplines.

For instance an Engineering Major at UAF, who demonstrates the required musical training, could complete the four-semester sequence of Suzuki Violin Pedagogy and be qualified to teach and run a private upper string studio in any community. Offering this course further strengthens music educator's efficacy in the field of education and performance. This helps music majors, and all string teachers and players in our department, community, and University. Just at UAF, we have over two full string orchestras of qualified teachers and students that would love an opportunity to take this course.

Offering this course connects UAF with a local community of teachers, students, and families that has been thriving for over 36 years in Fairbanks and the North Star Borough. Offering this course also connects UAF with an internationally renowned music education association: The Suzuki Association of the Americas.

This program has a 100% placement in the employment field at the other 13 schools in the nation that offer a similar pedagogy course. I myself am a student of this tradition and began studying violin in the Suzuki Method as early as two years old. I now have this same teacher training and just this past summer have traveled the world from Bali, Indonesia; to Ottawa, Kansas; to Honolulu, Hawaii; and back to Fairbanks, Alaska teaching thousands of students in this method.

Further Justification/description is included by our teacher for this course 40 year veteran, Dr. Gail Johansen:

The University of Alaska Fairbanks offers undergraduate students specific study and training in the Suzuki Method of music teaching and learning. The seminar is a 12 credit hour program that offers comprehensive teacher training to violinists and violists pursuing a degree in music performance or education. Students in other disciplines who are able to pass the entrance audition requirements may also register for these courses to fulfill elective requirements in the arts and humanities, with instructor approval. Viola teacher training through Unit 4 is included in this seminar.

The Suzuki Violin Pedagogy Seminar includes 4 semesters of classroom study and observation of experienced Suzuki teachers in the Fairbanks School of Talent Education Suzuki Music Program. Upon completion, participants will be able to register their teacher training courses with the Suzuki Association of the Americas, a nationally recognized registry of Suzuki trained teachers.

In Suzuki Violin Pedagogy seminar classes, students study the philosophy of Dr. Shinichi Suzuki's Talent Education Method and his impact on current learning theories about early childhood education. They learn skills for teaching fundamental techniques of string playing, from the beginning steps to the advanced levels. They study the music and teaching points of eight volumes of the Suzuki Violin Method.

Classroom instruction is complimented by guided observation of trained Suzuki Method violin and viola instructors, with an emphasis on live lesson observations. Group lesson observations are available through the Fairbanks School of Talent Education Suzuki Music Program, held weekly at nearby University Park Elementary School. Guided teaching includes serving as a practice partner to students and parents. Self-evaluation techniques are taught while feedback and assessment is given from mentor teacher, Dr. Gail Johansen.

Students who graduate with Suzuki pedagogy training go on to establish successful private studios, join established university and community music school programs or combined positions as symphony performers with educational outreach programs. Suzuki Method teaching is now the standard of music education for children. Graduates from the UAF Suzuki Violin Pedagogy Seminar will have the knowledge and skill to impact any community they choose, from the villages of Alaska to major cities across the United States.

Revised Suzuki Violin School Recording, Volume 1 and 2 (may be downloaded from iTunes)

Course Description:

The Suzuki Violin Pedagogy 1 is a comprehensive study of the history and philosophy of the Suzuki Method. Suzuki Method violin and viola teacher training for volume 1 and a portion of volume 2 will be covered. The course will begin with a workshop entitled, Every Child Can (ECC), the foundation course required by the Suzuki Association of the Americas (SAA). Trainees will understand the importance and role of parent education in relation to the Suzuki Method. They will understand the physical and musical process of setting up the beginning student. All pieces in the Suzuki Violin School Volume 1 and 2 will be studied in detail and performed by the trainees. It is strongly recommended that course participants submit and pass the SAA audition requirements for Suzuki teacher training level 1, if they intend to register their teacher training with the SAA. The audition requirements are listed in detail at www.suzukiassociation.org. Through class lecture, guided observation of experience Suzuki teaching and weekly group lessons, trainees will experience the Suzuki philosophy and method from the parent and teacher's point of view.

Course Goals and Student Learning Outcomes

- To gain and understanding of the history and philosophy of the Suzuki Method
- To understand the physical and musical process of setting up the beginning student
- To understand the importance and role of parent education in relation to the Suzuki Method
- To present a guide for chronological development of violin and viola repertoire included in Suzuki Violin or Viola School, Volumes 1 and 2
- Demonstrate teaching points and perform all of the pieces studied

Instructional methods:

Classroom lecture, small group discussion, observation of live Suzuki Method teaching, hands-on practice assistant experience with a student/parent each week, group lesson observations, online lesson observations, demonstration of teaching points by instructor and assessment of each trainee's proficiency with volumes 1 and 2 materials.

Course calendar: (Work in progress)

Major Topics

- Suzuki Philosophy
- Every Child Can foundation course workshop
- Listening and Review
- Parent-Teacher-Student Relationships
- Pre-Twinkle Preparations
- Tonalization
- Teaching Points in Volume 1, early portion of Volume 2
- Posture and Body Use
- Left-hand Set-up and Frame; independent fingering
- Finger Patterns; one and two octave scales
- Bowing Principles
- Elements of Muscianship
- Group Lesson Teaching
- Lesson Structure and Format

Discussion Points

- Setting up a Suzuki program
- Equipment (instrument, bow, recordings, music, ect.)
- Tuning
- Statement of Ethics, with reference to professional standards
- Individual and group lessons

Course policies:

- Listen daily to Suzuki Violin School Volume 1 and 2
- Bring your instrument to every class
- Weekly practice assistant "Mini-lesson" with a student/parent team
- Class participation will include discussions, playing demonstrations and memorization of the materials in Suzuki Violin School Volumes 1 and 2
- Attendance at all classes is required; tardiness affects attendance requirements and will need to be made-up
- Make-up exams will be done if they are missed due to reasons beyond the trainee's control (e.g. severe illness of family emergency). They will be handled on an individual basis and will require appropriate documentation and prior notification before either will be considered.

Attendance Policy:

Excused absences will be given at the discretion of the instructor on the basis of advanced communication from the student prior to missed class. Examples of such absences are due to reasons beyond the trainee's control (e.g. severe illness of family emergency). They will be handled on an individual basis and will require appropriate documentation and significant prior notification (at least 24 hours) before the start of class for either to be considered.

Unexcused Absences:

One unexcused absence is allowed, provided that the work is made up with the instructor of record. Each additional absence results in a 5% course grade reduction and all unexcused absences will affect the ability of the trainee to register their Suzuki Training with the SAA.

Tardiness:

Tardiness is when a student is 5 or more minutes late to a class. Two tardy equals one unexcused absence.15 minutes or more tardy counts as an unexcused absence. Excessive Tardiness results in course grade reduction.

Evaluation

Grading will be based on the following:

- Participation in class discussions
- Completion of required readings
- Completion of written assignments
- Completion of observation requirements
- Notebook evaluation
- In-class demonstration of teaching points and concepts
- · Completion of playing exams

Grading

Class attendance and participation 20%
Observation write-ups 20%
Written assignments 20%
Memorization of Suzuki repertoire 20%
Tests and Final Exam 20%

100 Point System

90-100=A

80-89=B

70-79=C

65-69=D

03-07-0

Below 65=F

Grade below C, the course will not be registered with the SAA

Completion of this course will entitle trainees to register Unit 1 with the Suzuki Association of the Americas. 100% attendance is required for this registration. Instructor must be notified 24 hours in advance if absence is unavoidable; trainee must make arrangements to video record the class. In order to register course, trainees must be member of the SAA. The SAA Teacher Registry is a service offered to teachers to centralize record keeping of training for verification for employment or other uses. It is like a transcript. Units 1-3 must be taken in order to register.

Plagiarism and Cheating: Plagiarism and cheating are matters of serious concern for students and academic institutions. I take it seriously as well. The UAF Honor Code (Student Code of Conduct) defines the academic standards expected at UAF and is adhered to in this class as well.

Disabilities Services

The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and ensures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials. I will work with the Office of Disabilities Services (474-5655) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.

The staff of Disability Services works with faculty in arranging appropriate services in the classroom. Questions should be directed to the Director of Disability Services at (907)-474-5655.
