

REPORT REFERENCED BELOW IS POSTED SEPARATELY (PDF file)

----- Forwarded message -----

From: Mark Herrmann <mlherrmann@alaska.edu>

Date: Wed, Sep 8, 2010 at 3:37 PM

Subject: ACTA Report

To: Dana Thomas <dlthomas@alaska.edu>, Carol Lewis <celewis@alaska.edu>

Cc: Susan Henrichs <smhenrichs@alaska.edu>, Brian Rogers <bdrogers@alaska.edu>

Hi Dana and Carol,

I was just gathering some materials to help me write up an SOM proposal to send to Faculty Senate for the UAF Core Curriculum when I ran across this publication from ACTA that came out a year ago. ACTA was the one who originally singled UAF out as the only University of the top 100 Universities to offer Economics in its Core and we were then featured on Fox News. The Aug 2009 report lists us now as only 2 of 100 Universities to do so (along with West Point).

On Page 20 of this report they write about UAF

*"Today's anything-goes curriculum means students are left unprepared to succeed in the global economy.

*

Economics has never been more important, but hardly any universities require it. Despite its importance in a globalized economy, basic economics is required at only two out of the 100 institutions surveyed: the University of Alaska-Fairbanks and the United States Military Academy (West Point). These two institutions show that a truly forward-looking general education program includes both the traditional and the innovative."

In general UAF receives very good marks from ACTA for its Core. You can glance at pages 25 to 29 to see their summary charts.

It might not hurt for President Gamble to have a copy of this.

Thanks

Mark

cc. Susan, Brian

--

Mark Herrmann
Dean, School of Management

----- Forwarded message -----

From: Mark Herrmann <mlherrmann@alaska.edu>

Date: Wed, Sep 8, 2010 at 3:50 PM

Subject: One last thing

To: Dana Thomas <dlthomas@alaska.edu>, Carol Lewis <celewis@alaska.edu>

Cc: Brian Rogers <bdrogers@alaska.edu>, Susan Henrichs <smhenrichs@alaska.edu>

Sorry for another e-mail but if you check out

<http://whatwilltheylearn.com/schools/states/AK.html>

you will see that we are ranked higher than both UAS and UAA on the Core.

I am getting myself all worked up for the consultants meeting tomorrow!

--

Mark Herrmann

Dean

School of Management

University Alaska Fairbanks

Fairbanks, Alaska 99775

907-474-7116

mlherrmann@alaska.edu

Forwarded conversation
Subject: Core suggestions

From: Charlie Dexter <cmdexter@alaska.edu>
Date: Wed, Sep 8, 2010 at 12:46 PM
To: Dana Thomas <dlthomas@alaska.edu>
Cc: Michele Stalder <mestalder@alaska.edu>, Pete Pinney <pppinney@alaska.edu>

Dana,

Two thoughts for the core review discussions.

- 1) Could course that are part of the AAS core (9 cr. communication, 3 cr. Human Relations, 3 cr. computation) also fulfill BA/BS core?
- 2) UAF has a very large group of AAS seeking students who are essentially cut off from efficiently continuing on to BA/BS because of the large number of BA/BS core credits not required in AAS degrees. Could there be some acknowledgment of AAS degrees fulfilling a larger part of the bachelor core?

--

Charlie Dexter
Department Chair / Professor
Applied Business, Paralegal and Accounting
UAF Community & Technical College
604 Barnett Street
Fairbanks, AK 99701
P: 907.455.2837
F: 907.455.2941
Email: charlie.dexter@alaska.edu

<http://www.ctc.uaf.edu>
<http://www.CharlieDexter.com>

From: Dana Thomas <dlthomas@alaska.edu>
Date: Thu, Sep 9, 2010 at 8:09 AM
To: Charlie.Dexter@alaska.edu
Cc: Michele Stalder <mestalder@alaska.edu>, Pete Pinney <pppinney@alaska.edu>

Charlie:

CTC and CRCDC needs to take these specific suggestions to the faculty senate through Curricular Affairs or the new ad hoc core revision committee that is tentatively planned for this year. We certainly need a better pathway for

AAS students to pursue further education. At the moment the senate is addressing the intended outcomes of the core not the specific courses or sequences. I will pass your messages to the senate and encourage them to engage you in the conversation.

Dana Thomas

--

Dana L. Thomas PhD
Vice Provost, Accreditation Liaison Officer and Professor of Statistics
University of Alaska Fairbanks

--

Dana L. Thomas PhD
Vice Provost, Accreditation Liaison Officer and Professor of Statistics
University of Alaska Fairbanks