

2021 Fall Mentor Awards

Request for Proposals

Full-time UAF faculty members, postdoctoral researchers and graduate students from all disciplines and campuses are eligible to apply for awards of up to $5,000 for undergraduate research and scholarly learning opportunities.

Funding Options

- Support of undergraduate students involved in research and creative activities.
- Support costs for student fellowships, travel, services and/or supplies that will benefit undergraduate student projects or help establish a recurring opportunity for student projects.
Examples can be found at www.uaf.edu/ursa "Award Recipients".
- All funds must be spent no later than June 15, 2022.

Eligibility

- Any full-time faculty member, post-doc or graduate student with a history of collaborating with undergraduate students or a strong desire to work with undergraduate students.
- All disciplines from all UAF campuses.
- Any full-time faculty member, postdoctoral researcher, or graduate student may apply for a mentor award but they may not receive more than two of these awards in a three-year period. This policy will allow for a greater number of individuals to receive awards from URSA's limited funds.

Criteria for Selection

- Scoring criteria are listed on the URSA website under "URSA Awards/Mentor Awards".

Selection process

- Selections will be made by the URSA Review Panel.
- All applicants will be notified by email and announced on the URSA website by October 1, 2021.
- Awardees are required to complete: A reflection survey of their experience, provide a list of undergraduate students who participated in this project, and require their students to create a poster or display for Research and Creative Activity Day - April 7, 2022.

Deadline to apply is September 12, 2021
